Fire strikes twice, $80,000 in damages

By RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Managing Editor

Fire struck Antioch businesses twice this week on the waterfront.

Two marinas suffered fire damage in unrelated fires occurring Sunday and Monday evenings. No one was injured in either blaze.

Chief Fire Investigator Rich Frankson of the Antioch Fire Department is crediting heat detectors installed in the pole barn at Pedersen Marine for minimizing damage in a blaze which occurred Monday, Feb. 9 at approximately 7 p.m.

"The blaze looked a lot worse than it was," Frankson said.

Brian Pedersen heard the alarm going off Monday evening and walked toward the pole barn and discovered the door was hot. He then called 911 to respond to the blaze.

According to fire officials, the building had moderate damage in the loft area and two boats which were being serviced in the pole barn received heat and smoke damage.

Total damage was conservatively estimated at $75,000 according to Frankson. The cause of the Pedersen fire was determined to be electrical.

Fox Lake, Antioch car dealer becomes media darling as chairman of Chicago Auto Show

By LEON FILAS
Staff Reporter

I suppose that when you have the experience that Ray Scarpelli has behind him, you're allowed to take some time off from your regular job.

That's exactly what Scarpelli did this past week. He took time off from his two auto dealerships,—Raymond Chevrolet in Antioch and Ray Chevy/Geo in Fox Lake, and became a media darling as chairman of the Chicago Auto Show, one of the world's most prestigious annual conventions.

"I am the current chairman of the Chicago Auto Trade Association," Scarpelli said, during a break between one of the numerous press conferences he will give during the 10 day run as chairman of the show. "That's how I became the Chairman of the auto show."

As chairman, it is his job, of course with help from the other directors of the CATA, to get the show up and running, and to make sure all the manufacturers in the world become a part of the show.

"This year alone, I have been to Tokyo and Frankfurt, Germany, to make sure that foreign manufacturers are planning on taking part in the show," Scarpelli said. "We have a large staff to assist me and it's a big interesting endeavor like no other."

Due to this, time is something that he lacks. In fact, his schedule on the day before the auto show opened was something that left little time for simple things that most people need to survive, like food for example.

"At 6 a.m., I'll be on Good Morning America, on Ross Vermin show at 6:20, on CLTV at 6:30 and Channel 2 at noon," Scarpelli said, almost out of wind. "Then tomorrow, I'll be on WBBM-TV at 6 a.m. again. It's a hectic schedule."

This comes from a man who opened his first auto dealership in Antioch in 1963, then added Fox Lake seven years ago. Now, his two sons are running his stores, Ray Jr. in Fox Lake and Mark in Antioch.

"It's great to have them around to let me take time away from the store for something like this," Scarpelli stated. "It's great to get this type of recognition from your peers."

Recognition is something

Scarpelli has been getting a lot of lately. He is known as a great community leader, with numerous donations of cars and trucks to local area organizations. Most recently, he donated a brand new Chevrolet Blazer to the Round Lake Park District.

In recognition of this, Time Mag-

Referendum meeting set

Informational meeting will answer public's questions

Antioch village officials will host an informational meeting for the upcoming public safety referendum on Monday, Feb. 23, at 7 p.m. at the Village Hall.

The meeting will offer residents a chance to learn more about the proposed building plans as well as the cost of the structures and equipment to be purchased if the bond issue is approved by voters on March 17.

The question voters will be asked to vote on is whether or not the village should issue $2.5 million in general obligation bonds to build a public safety building and purchase fire safety equipment.

The March referendum marks the first referendum vote put to Antioch residents in many years. The present fire safety building is the result of a December 1977 referendum.

Tag Day dates set

Village trustees approved tag days for the Children's Benefit League of Chicago and Suburbs and for Misericordia Fannie May Candy Day at the Feb. 2 council meeting.

Children's Benefit League will seek contributions April 17 and 18. Funds collected benefit 24 agencies. They provide services in clinics, camps, alternative schools, foster care programs, and day care agencies. Collections are conducted at train stations, banks, stores, post offices, and main business areas of Antioch. There is no door-to-door solicitation or collection from motorists in the public-right-of-way.

Collections are conducted in street intersections, near heavy pedestrian traffic areas, and on private property when owner permission is granted. Tags and Lollipops are given to those who contribute.

Civic Club carnival set

Village trustees voted Monday, Feb. 2 to permit the Annual 885 Civic Club Days carnival on Thursday, May 7 through Sunday, May 10.

The Village granted permission for use of the parking lot behind Ben Franklin Home Accents Store and near the Piggly Wiggly grocery store.

"This is our biggest fund raiser for the entire year, and we appreciate the cooperation and assistance extended to our club each year for this event," said Secretary Thelma J. LaFleur in a letter to the council.

Windy City Amusements will provide games, food, and rides at the carnival. They will arrive in Antioch May 3 and complete set-up of rides and concession stands on May 7. The carnival is dismantled Sunday evening, May 10. Safety guidelines will be followed. Dumpsters and portable toilets will be used. Lake County Sheriff Reserves will be present.

azine, in conjunction with Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, awarded Scarpelli with the Time Magazine Quality Dealer Award for 1998.

The award, which honors Scarpelli for his commitment to excellence, as well as his community service achievement, is considered to be the highest achievement for a car dealer. He was presented the award at National Auto Dealers Association convention in New Orleans on Jan. 31.

"It's great to get this kind of recognition from your peers," Scarpelli stated. "It's been a lot of hard work to get here, and this is some of the things that are worth it." In 10 days though, the auto show will leave town and its back to the shop in Antioch again.

"Nope, next year, I'll be co-chairman of the show," Scarpelli stated. "Which means that the day the auto show shuts down, it's right back to square one. It takes a full year to put this together."

Which means another year of being away from the everyday running of the store.

"Yea, but it's great," Scarpelli stated, who by this point, is being asked to give another interview. "The business is in good hands."

FIRE: Alarm saves marina from extensive loss

where an alarm system has kept a fire from becoming a complete loss," Frankson said.

Antioch did call a second alarm during the blaze and was assisted by firefighters from Trevor and Wilmet, Wis., Newport, Fox Lake, Grayslake and Round Lake.

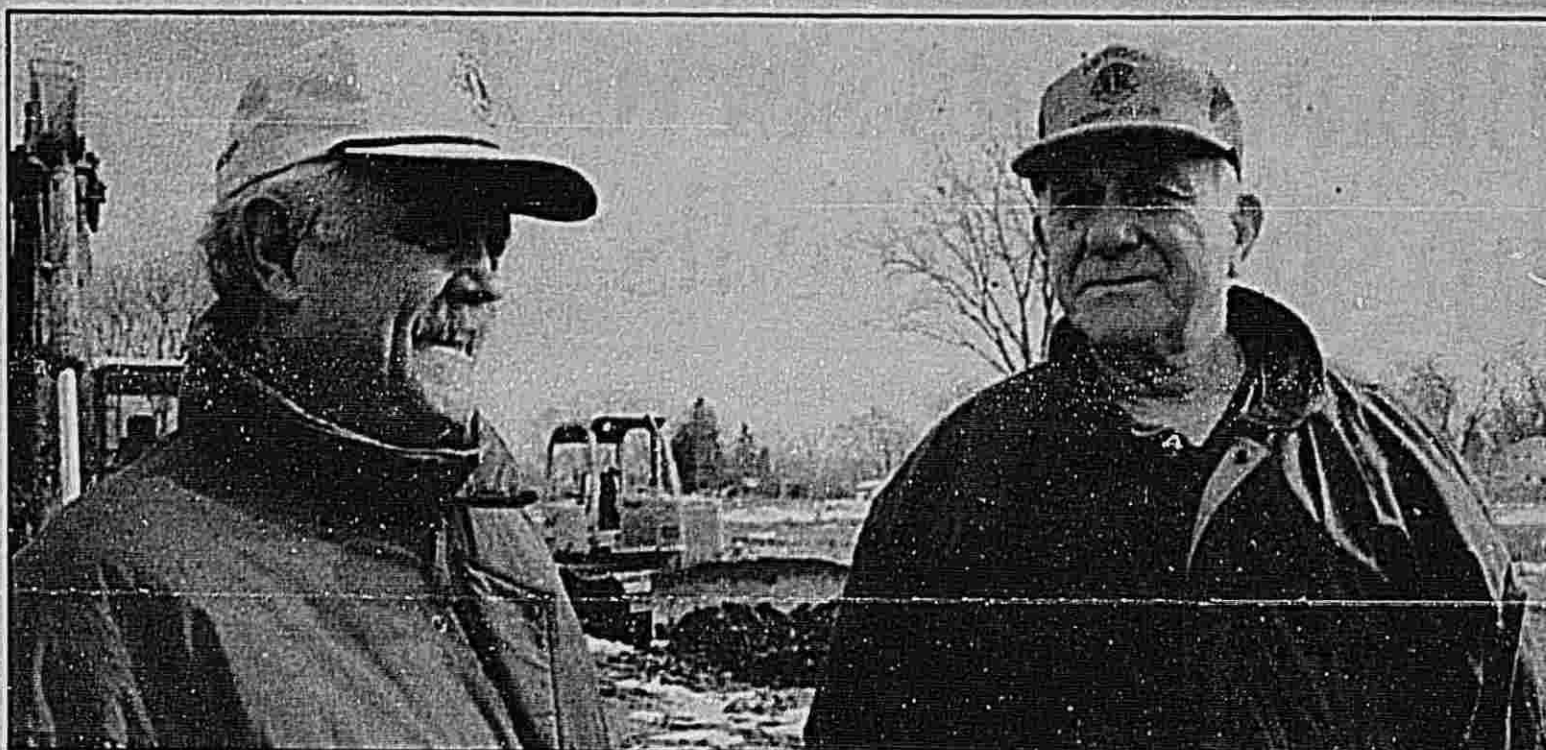

"The first engine company extinguished the blaze and firefighters remained on the scene until midnight," Frankson said.

Sunday evening, Feb. 8, a fire was reported at Sequoit Harbor Marina at approximately 8 p.m., according to Frankson.

In that fire a propane tank exploded at a guard shack causing minor exterior damage to the building. The guard called 911 from the shack after the explosion, then broke the glass to get out. A passerby, Robert Lemke, helped the guard to safety. The guard, who was not identified by authorities, was not injured.

Frankson said damage at Sequoit Harbor was estimated at $2,000. The cause of the blaze remains under investigation.

Neither fire was related nor is foul play suspected in either blaze.

Festive February Faschings ball set

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Festive costumes, music by Talismann, and dancing are featured attractions of the German-American Club of Antioch Faschings Ball Feb. 14 at the Antioch Golf Club.

"It's a Mardi Gras," said President Karl Pokorny. "We've been doing this now for 17 years." He said, "We are the only ones who have it out here."

There are larger, more expensive German-American balls in Chicago. For Lake County residents however, this is a good evening of entertainment and meeting with friends, according to Pokorny. The hall will be decorated in a theme that evokes Valentine's Day.

"There is a dance group out of Antioch. They will march in with costumes."

"There are quite a few prizes for the best costumes, male and female, and the most original," he said.

"It's an evening event," Pokorny said. The doors open at 7 p.m. and the dance itself starts near 8 p.m. There is an $8 admission charge that can be paid at the entrance.

"Young people are welcome," Pokorny said.

The German American Club of Antioch sponsors three major public events a year such as the Faschings Ball. The other two are Oktoberfest and a dance.

"In April we have a membership drive and dinner dance at the golf club too," he said. He encourages people to consider joining the club.

"Anybody who wants to join, I love them." Membership dues are $7.50 a year. Interested people can call him at 847-587-5707.

Officers for the German American Club of Antioch also include: 1st Vice-president Ruth Gsel, 2nd Vice-president Manfred Menninger, Treasurer Dorothy Jordal, Assistant Treasurer Hanna

Hogan, 2nd Treasurer Dolores Eberle Sr., Recording Secretary Dolores Eberle Jr., Custodian Lenny Eberle, and trustees Charlie Hogan and Hannelore Becker.

Flu bug strikes, but so does cupid

Well it's been one of the weeks, I'd just as soon forget.

I haven't been lost, I've been sick.

The flu bug has brought havoc to both my personal and professional life this past week, thank goodness I planned ahead on my Valentine's Day surprises for my loved ones—Bet, my wife, and Lori, my daughter.

I surprised Bet at her job in downtown Chicago with a bouquet of two dozen yellow roses. (I've been saving up my allowance for weeks). When they called her up front to the reception area to receive the delivery, she told them there must be some mistake. I guess I should send flowers more often.

I chose yellow roses because I remembered how striking they were in a scene from the movie, "The Age of Innocence." Turns out, Bet also prefers the yellow over the traditional red.

We are celebrating 21 years of marriage this year and five or six years of courtship before that (depending on who you ask). Happy Valentine's Day, Bet and Lori and to all of you.

Hope to see you around town this week.

Bloated rats serve up student meals

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Mix food science students with ceramic art students and teachers will have to contend with mozzarella cigars and bloated rat teapots.

Such are the ways of teaching Antioch Community High School students about team work. It is probably in the mission statement somewhere.

Ceramics Teacher Julie Elver and Food Science Teacher Linda Zeman set forth to create an interdisciplinary learning experience for their students. Food Science III students created and prepared three meals that were served from serving plates on dishware made by ceramic arts students.

"The students made dishes to complement or contrast the different food dishes," said Elver. Once her students knew the foods to be served, they were able to focus on the types of plates and serving dishes needed and to begin to design and make them.

"They really realized about production deadlines," she said. It is one thing to think up designs, and it is another experience to make them on a deadline basis. Elver said that her students learned how the artistic part can go by the wayside as they shift to utilitarian production methods.

"Other people would be seeing (these dishes) beside themselves, and they would be reflected in what they did," Elver said. That was a high motivator. Eventually her ceramics students had to go to a division of labor with an assembly line to produce the necessary items.

Food Science students had similar problems. Zeman wanted them to select a menu and work out the preparation schedule. Since classes are only 50 minutes long, it would require students to make the meal in slow motion. Foods made one day would be saved to reheat for serving on another day.

"They learned how important planning and timing was," said Zeman. "They had to have patience."

The meal itself took two days to prepare. "On the third day, they finished it and ate it," she said.

"They learned a lot from it, and how to work under pressure," Zeman said. "It was kind of a review of everything we've done."

Both teachers said that they expect to do this type of multi-disciplinary project again. Teamwork, deadlines, patience, coordination, discipline, and interrelationships are some of the skills such a joint venture conveys.

"To see them get excited about it—that is the key," said Zeman. Elver said, "I try to do things that will excite the kids and they haven't done before." Certainly there was excitement.

Food Science student John Horan worked on the mozzarella cigars. Horan saw the idea for the cigars in a food book and worked on them. He likes to cook and this dish gave him a chance to do that. To serve the mozzarella cigars, ceramic arts students created ashtrays in which they would be served.

Elver had some students approaching their assignments from another mind-set, however. "Some of the boys got into this bloated rat thing. They decided that they had to do bloated rats regardless of what the food was." She said that their choice was to contrast, rather than complement, the food to be served. "They made a bloated rat teapot with matching bloated rat cups."

Student Jeff Wells worked on the rats. "We had a group of five people. We were looking through a ceramic magazine and saw some ceramic rats. We all just came up with the idea."

"We were going to have the head for the pot," Wells said. The rat tail would serve as a handle. "The head of the rat was the hardest thing," he said. "We used a live rat as a model."

"Erik Katz was the main person making the rat," Wells said. "I made the feet, spun the tail." Oh, Katz made the rat.

Food Science student Andy Barr said, "The food item that I was working on was pillows of chicken." It is a piece of chicken wrapped in a pastry with a sauce. "The ceramics students made a bathtub for the pillows of chicken," he said. "It was about one and a half feet long and about a half foot wide."

Elver said one food dish was spoon bread. The serving dishes her students made for that one did complement it. It was a giant spoon. Other students made cabbage bowls from which to eat the salads.

There were two times when the students came together to work on the project. One was when they ate it. The first time, however, was a trip to Pickard China. "I think it just amazed them," Zeman said. It is easy for people to take dishes for granted until they see how much work is involved in making them.

Elver said all the students were able to see the entire production process of making a dish. The tour lasted more than an hour. "They saw people working for hours with fine brushes piece by piece," she said. It was a way to embellish the project and create a broader learning context.

The students even selected music for their mutual dinner. "They chose Tom Jones and flamenco music," said Elver. In fact, the flamenco music had become the theme music for the entire project.

Both Elver and Zeman did agree on the biggest surprise of the project. Zeman said that the need to clean the dishes came as a surprise to some of the ceramics students. Elver said that the washing of the dishes still needs to be worked out. "That was the only conflict there was," she said.

There were three meals prepared by the students. The first menu was: family green salad, barbecued steak and bacon kebabs, asparagus Milanese, corn spoon bread, baked Alaska pie, milk, coffee, and tea. A second menu was: pepperoni pizza, pillows of chicken, fettuccine ala Capricciosa, chocolate cream tarts, milk, coffee, and tea. The third menu prepared was: mozzarella cigars, chicken scaloppini with rice, savory topped tomatoes, Boston cream pie, milk, coffee, and tea.

When asked about the value of the assignment, all students agreed that it was of value. "It was a really good project," said Horan. "I thought they were great," said Barr. "We had a blast," said Wells.

"It was an experiencing working with Mrs. Elver," said one participant. "She's not like your ordinary teacher. She's weird but cool at the same time."

Cub Scouts learn police procedures

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Antioch, Lindenhurst, and Lake Villa Cub Scouts visited the Antioch Police Department in January as part of a series of visits to public agencies since October.

"They showed them a jail, cars, how to lift fingerprints, and the dispatch center," said Den leader Linda Pohlman. Officers showed Scouts what happens when they make a 911 call. The visit helps Scouts learn about what police officers do and how officers can be of assistance. Officers providing information were Daryl Young and Lt. Ronald Roth.

"They're trying to complete their achievements," said Pohlman. Scouts are involved in activities and trips as they move to higher Scout ranks. The trips help Cub Scout Bear Pack 191, Den 4, move to the next rank of Webelos. "This has to be done by March," she said.

The trip to the Antioch Police Department was only one of many recent activities by the den. In October, they went to the Chain of Lakes State Park for an evening outing. This provided an opportunity for them to tell tall tales that they had researched according to Pohlman. She said that they went to the Lake Villa Rescue Squad and also did some roller skating. The paramedics explained what to do in a vehicle accident.

During November, Scouts made tool boxes with wood that had been donated by Home Depot.

"We've been to the (Lakes Region) Historical Museum in December," Pohlman said. January activities included the Antioch Police Station visit, an outdoor winter challenge at the Lakewood Forest Preserve, Pinewood derby car races, and a trip to a Milwaukee Bucks game.

"We have 10 (Scouts) in our den," Pohlman said. "We incorporate Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst boys." They are 8 years old. The den leaders are Pohlman, of Lake Villa, Amy Hernandez, of Lindenhurst, and Kevin Sippy, of Antioch.

Boyfriend charged; woman in coma

By JASON J. KING
Staff Reporter

A Round Lake Beach man faces domestic battery charges after allegedly beating a local woman severely Saturday, Feb. 7. She remains in a coma at Condell Medical Center.

Thomas D. Day, 27, was arrested after officers responded to an emergency call for a possible violent domestic dispute in the 1800 block of Cedar Lake Rd.

Upon arrival, the responding officers heard screaming coming from the inside of the home. The officers knocked on the door several times until Day answered the door.

Day told the officers that there had been a small disturbance but that his girlfriend had left the home.

While talking to Day, the officers noticed a small, female child screaming for her mother in the kitchen which was littered with broken dishes. The officers detected a strong smell of alcohol on Day and entered the home to check for victims and on the well-being of the children.

During a search of the home, one of the officers found the victim, lying unconscious in bed, with a bloodied face and bleeding from her ear.

The Round Lake Rescue squad was called and transported the victim to Condell Medical Center.

Officials said Day had dragged the victim upstairs in an attempt to conceal the crime.

The officers also found a small amount of cannabis and a number of cannabis cigarettes in the residence.

The young child, and her infant sister were taken into custody and then released to the victim's parents.

Day was charged with domestic battery. When apprised of the woman's condition, Day refused to comment and became belligerent.

The woman remains in a coma at Condell. The victim's age was not released by police.

Looking for daughter, teens break into home

A woman residing in an apartment at 545 W. Park Ave. noticed a male looking through the sliding door of her home Feb. 7, at approximately 3 p.m. she warned the boy to leave.

Minutes later another male broke into the home via the sliding glass door. The woman attempted to call police from the kitchen phone, but it wasn't working. She then ran to the bedroom, locked herself in and called police from there.

When the police arrived Lucas Schmitt, 19, of 603 W. Park Ave. apartment 203 was arrested, as he exited the building. He was charged with criminal trespass to a residence. Apparently Schmitt and his friend were looking for the daughter of the woman's fiancée.

An hour later at approximately 6 p.m. the woman called police again saying a female subject had forced her way into the apartment. The girl Sparkle S. McCullough 19, with the same address as Schmitt, was also looking for the daughter of the woman's fiancée.

McCullough reportedly forced her way in, began yelling at the woman and picked up a caulk gun off the counter attempting to hit the resident. The woman then threw a phone at McCullough and ran to the bedroom to phone police.

The daughter arrived home soon thereafter and told police she suspected the girl who trespassed was McCullough. Police located her walking down the street near Sunnyside Place, where her family resides.

County St., Waukegan. Voting is offered during regular office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Friday. In-person absentee voting will also be offered Saturday, March 14, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. The last day to vote in-person absentee is Monday, March 16.

In Illinois, absentee voting is restricted to the following: absent from Lake County on election day; physically incapacitated; student temporarily residing outside Lake County; observance of a religious holiday; incarceration pending trial date; serving jury duty; employed in the Office of the Lake County Clerk/State's Attorney or as an election judge and election day duties will prevent being present at the polling place.

"Our office also offers a number of absentee programs which accommodate voters who are temporarily or permanently unable to be at the polls on election day. These include the Disabled Voter Program, the Temporarily Absent Student Program and the Snowbird Program. We encourage voters who wish to learn more about these programs to contact our Absentee Voting Dept. at 360-5912," Helander said.

Workin' away winter at the car wash

This is the time of year most Americans feel compelled to visit their local car wash on a regular basis. As the grime and salt from the county roadway's attaches itself to the exterior of our driving machines, car wash gurus sit back in their corner offices, with a view, smiling from ear to ear. They love northern Illinois winters. I don't do car washes.

The Pringle-mobile can have hunk of gunk hanging from its fenders, it can be coated white with road salt, but you will not find me going anywhere near that big opened door that beckons you to proceed toward that gurgling apparatus.

As a grown adult, I am ashamed to admit that I am totally terrified of automatic car washes. I just cannot make myself pull into one of those over-sized washing machines. I am so afraid I will misguide my vehicle into that little track meant for your tires and end up sailing through the back door as the first blast of water hits the car. Plus once you're in place you are the mercy of all those twirling brushes, squirting water, and that big cylinder-shaped bristle that bears down at you like a steam-roller. I physically cringe in my seat, squeezing my eyes shut as tightly as possible.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

For the kids sake I try my best to mimic the look of awe on their faces as we pass through the beast, but I come across looking like a deer caught in headlights, holding the knowledge that my underwear will have to be changed once we get home.

Hubby, knowing full well of my phobia, always pays for the super-duper wash, wax and hand dry because he knows I can't hold my breath that long. I can't say that I have ever had a bad experience with a car wash, but I have visions of getting stuck in the middle of the wash cycle with the brushes slapping the sides of the car and soapy water oozing over the entire vehicle—and I know it has happened, I have heard the stories.

Exactly how does one go about getting the attention of the car wash attendant in the event the beast malfunctions when you are sitting smack dab in the middle of it? It's not like you can just open your car door and get out. It's not like you can call someone on your car phone—can you imagine that 911 dispatcher's answer to a "I'm stuck in the car wash and I can't get out" plea? And who is going to be able to hear a honking horn with all that whirling, sloshing and gurgling going on. Maybe its because I get nervous in confined spaces.

Maybe its just the thought of using good money to clean off a vehicle which is just going to get dirty all over again once I exit the building and head down the highway toward our mud puddle infested gravel driveway. Or maybe the thought of barrels of pressurized water shooting at me from all directions with nothing but a few pieces of glass protecting me is a bit unnerving. Rust, rust, the hubby claims—you have to get the salt off or the car will turn into a rusty old bucket. New car, new car, new car is my answer.

Andrews to be honored

Friday, Feb. 20, has been designated Roger Andrews night at Antioch Community High School. The Sequoits' legendary teacher and coach will be honored at a ceremony during half-time of the boys' basketball game with Libertyville that begins at approximately 7:30 p.m.

A reception in the school's commons will follow the game. Andrews taught and coached at ACHS from 1960-61. During his tenure as head boys' basketball coach (1962-82) his teams won the school's first conference and regional titles and made the Sequoits only visit to the elite eight. All told, he amassed 335 victories at ACHS and earned state coach of the year honors in 1982. Andrews also coached track (1962-70) and golf (1987-91) in addition to serving as department head for PE/Driver's Ed/Health from 1976 until his retirement.

So, I am content to drive around with the neighborhood kids scrawlings of WASH ME plastered all over my vehicle. I don't care if it rains or snows. I don't care if the road is covered with salt, slush or mud.

But don't let my windshield washer fluid run dry—now that will drive me crazy.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

EAT (RIGHT), DRINK (RIGHT), AND BE HEALTHY

Chiropractic emphasizes the importance of good nutrition in the maintenance of health. The ability to recover quickly and easily from injury and the strength of the immune system depend on many factors, including mental attitude, stress level, heredity--and diet.

The study of nutrition has been neglected in traditional Western allopathic medical schools. Chiropractic colleges offer comprehensive nutritional training, enabling their graduates to deliver competent advice on this very important aspect of health. Many chiropractors include a nutritional history as a part of their examinations and recommend dietary changes when indicated. Chiropractors are aware that food allergies may contribute to a number of disease symptoms. They have simple and effective methods of allergy testing.

If you have questions about diet and nutrition, your chiropractor can provide valuable information. Education and experience have confirmed that "we are what we eat".

If maintaining your health and caring for your heart are important to you, call Round Lake Beach Chiropractic at 847.740.2800 to make an initial, no obligation consultation with Dr. Scott G. Reiser. Dr. Reiser has served the Lake and McHenry County area for over 10 years. Let his knowledge and experience serve you. Dr. Reiser's clinic is located at 314 Rollins Road, Round Lake Beach (Eagle Creek Plaza - corner of Cedar Lake and Rollins Roads.)

ACHS wins in overtime

North Chicago may have added some believers in its abilities but did not add its first win against Antioch.

The Sequoits survived a 66-61 overtime struggle at home with the winless Warhawks.

Sophomore Don Lackey scored 14 points to lead the Sequoits, who scored 35 points over the last quarter plus overtime.

Chris Groth (11 points) again proved to hit the clutch shots as he has all year.

North Chicago (0-17, 0-11 NSC) received 16 points from Ricky Irby. The last three came on a shot which sent the game into overtime.

Antioch enjoyed a huge 19-4 edge in free throws.

ACHS is at Lake Forest Feb. 13 and hosts Wauconda Feb. 14 in non-conference play.

Warren turned back Antioch 58-37 in an earlier NSC clash.

When this basketball season started, senior Justin Wagner earned himself a spot in the Warren High starting lineup.

"I started at the beginning of the year, but lost my job. I have been starting since Mike Brandow was hurt. I would go home and think about what I needed to do to get my game better," said Wagner.

Wagner had nine points and three rebounds against Antioch, and takes pride in his defense.

"I have picked up seven charge calls in the last five games. I anticipate where the guy above me is going," said Wagner.

The senior has seen his role on the squad grow since last year.

"Last year all I did was come in off the bench to give guys breathers or if they were in foul trouble. My defense has picked up and that is important around here," said Wagner.

Speaking of defense, what better spokesman than Langston Hughes. A junior, Hughes scored 17 points, but more importantly held Antioch sharpshooter Groth to 10 points.

An up-tempo game favored the home team.

"We wanted an up-tempo game in transition because if it was a pound-the ball inside game we would be in trouble. We ran out offense pretty well," said WTHS coach Chuck Ramsey.

Warren had only six turnovers through three quarters and a 13-point lead.

Chuck Breuscher chipped in with 10 points. Jourdain Milot had nine points and 12 rebounds.

Warren is adjusting to life without junior center Brandow.

Kerrigan, Thomas lead LHS over ACHS

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

There was not much time for the Libertyville girls basketball team to mull over its loss of its star.

After three games without their premier player, the Wildcats were back in the groove with a 46-37 win over Antioch (11-14, 3-10 NSC). They had lost games to Stevenson and Warren after star Allison Farington's services were no longer available due to a knee injury.

"We came out and had a lot of heart and leadership. I think leadership was the big thing," said Katie Kerrigan.

Kerrigan gave LHS 13 points and six rebounds, many coming at critical times. Tricia Thomas, who led the Wildcats with 10 points in a 50-31 loss to Warren, chipped in with 11 at Antioch.

"Our defense caused a lot of trouble. We wanted it to be a fast game. Thomas did fine and Kerrigan provided a lot of leadership," said LHS coach Tom Murphy.

"Katie really works hard. When you practice against her, you get bruises all over," said Thomas.

The Wildcats (16-9, 10-3 NSC) opened up their lead in the second quarter to 14 points when Kerrigan scored six points and Thomas had seven.

"Libertyville's size hurt us and they ran so many people at you with pressure. Aja Brown is still sick and others stepped it up. What we are searching for is a level of consistency for four quarters. We had some mental lapses, but we changed our offense in the second half," said ACHS coach Dave Woods.

Nicole Langley scored 12 to lead the Sequoits, and she had an 18-point game in a 50-27 loss to Lake Forest the night before.

"It seems I shoot much better at home," said Langley.

Woods praised the play of Erin Riepe, a junior starting in place of injured Kelly Stryck.

"Erin has filled in well for Kelly. She has a lot more confidence," said Woods.

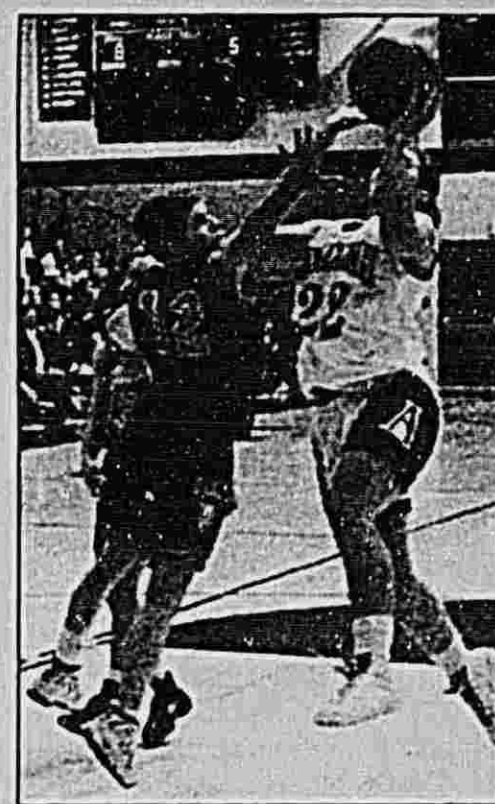

Riepe had five points while Amy Carlberg added six for ACHS.

The Saturday clash coincided with Lisa Ipsen's 18th birthday. The Sequoits senior's older sister plays for the College of Lake County, and has helped in the development of Lisa's game.

"We played together all the time," said Ipsen.

Ipsen said she will miss the close-knit group of this year's Antioch girls basketball team. "We all laugh a lot and we all have a good time," she said.

Both Antioch and Libertyville are preparing for the first round Warren sectional clashes. Antioch hosts No. 10 seed North Chicago Feb. 17. Libertyville hosts Grant Feb. 16.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

Ultes

Name: Jeff Ultes
School: Antioch High
Sport: Wrestling
Year: Senior
Last week's stats: Won 171 pound weight class to qualify for the Rockford sectional.

Swiderek

Name: Amber Swiderek
School: Antioch High
Sport: Girls bowling
Year: Senior

Last week's stats: Qualified for the state meet with a 1,112 series at sectional.

Smart, sectional qualifiers peak at right time for Antioch

Steve Smart saved his most outstanding wrestling for when it counted this year.

Smart will be making a bid for a state meet spot when he competes at 189 pounds at the Rockford sectional Feb. 13-14.

"Smart wrestled his best tournament of the season. He was completely dominating and pinned his first two opponents," said ACHS coach Ted Sieckowski.

Smart won the weight class with a 12-5 win over Round Lake's Tony Mullins.

Also high in the confidence department is fellow regional champ Ryan Hlinak. The sophomore downed Joe Michniewicz of Grant 3-1 at 112 pounds.

Jeff Ultes secured a third ACHS crown with a pin over Waukegan in 1:31 at 171.

ACHS finished third at the Waukegan regional with 108 points, missing a chance to go on to the team duals. Champ Grayslake and runner-up Grant won that honor.

ACHS will be represented at Rockford by third-place winners Brian Backe at 103, Joe Brandimore at 130.

Swiderek seeks strong start at state bowling meet

After being denied a trip to Rockford and the state meet by a couple of dozen pins last year, Amber Swiderek was a determined sectional bowler.

Her total of 1,112 was good enough to qualify for the state meet Feb. 13-14.

After a low game of 154, Swiderek rolled a 176 and went up from there. She finished with a 212, the best single game effort of any Sequoit at Conant's sectional.

"Amber helped a couple of other bowlers get ready for the sectional because it is much different pressure," said ACHS coach Steve Haenchen.

The 154 start was not uncommon for the senior.

"The lanes were pretty dry in the second half. Amber had some trouble with her left side spares early. If not for the bad start, 1,200 was not out of reach," said Haenchen.

Swiderek had a second series of 599. She was fifth overall, one away from a medal spot.

"Amber has to stay away from a slow start and tighten up on spares," said Haenchen.

Amber Phelps also had a strong second series, with an 537 for a 986 total.

Antioch had a team score of 4,841.

ACHS, 6-7 in duals and third place in the North Suburban Conference, lost a late-season dual to Fen-ton 2,738 to 2,454. Swiderek had a 532 series, Foresta a 531.

Lake County Baseball Winter Clinic a success

Celebrity speakers drive home the finer points of baseball. Lake County Baseball's Winter Clinic was a wealth of baseball information for both the campers and their parents. Ray Piagentinni from the Cincinnati Reds spoke to the young ballplayers giving them tips on how to become a better ball player both physically and mentally. His emphasis was how young players could develop the skills and attitude that would take them to the next level of their development.

Burt Robbins from the Florida Marlins spoke to the capacity crowd on his experiences with the Marlins and offered advice to the young players on where to start their own development. Kevin Marsh, Varsity Coach from Deerfield High School, talked about what is like to play ball on a high school level and beyond. He praised Lake County Baseball for offering young ball players a "place that permeates baseball." Mike Jetel, the hitting instructor from Rolling Meadows High School offered his advice and batting tips to the ball players.

Jay Mansavage from the Houston Astros related what life in the minor league system was like and Jim Kuhr from the Semi-Pro Chicago Mustangs answered questions from the audience relating to making the transitions from high school, to college, to professional ball. The audience of parents and ball players all benefited from this special camp session put on once a year by Lake County Baseball as part of its Winter Baseball Clinic. The Clinic continues to run for the next four weeks as the campers return to their skills instruction and training.

Lake County Baseball's Traveling Teams are in full swing starting their weekly practices indoors. There is still room on the 10 year old team and on the 13 year old teams. Anyone interested in trying out for these teams could come to the team's practices. The 10 year old team practices on Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m. and the 13 year old team practices on Thursdays at 7 p.m. For more information on the teams or on tryouts, call 945-9606.

ACHS girls seek healthy finish

Recap: Antioch fell victim to a high-powered offense from North Chicago as illness woes continue to hamper the team late this season.

Senior Aja Brown had to sit out the game against the Warhawks due to illness.

"It hurt us in all aspects. She is one person who can attack the basket. She is our leader on offense and rebounds and one of our best inside defenders," said ACHS coach Dave Woods. "It also allowed North Chicago to match-up better defensively against us."

The result was a 47-38 loss to the Warhawks.

"We gave a solid effort. We ran out of gas at the end. They had a five-point lead which we could not catch up to," said Woods.

Antioch led 23-22 at halftime but could not find the shooting range in the second half.

Amy Calberg did a good job in scoring 15 points, said Woods.

Antioch (11-11 overall), is also receiving contributions of late from Katieanne Pechauer, a freshman guard.

Wessel's talents bloom for Rams

Rich Panitch is convinced about Jenny Wessel's talents.

"I have coached for many years, and in AAU ball and she is a Division I player," said coach Panitch.

Wessel, the Rams 6-2 sophomore center, went one-on-one with Dundee-Crown star Billie Russell and came away with some impressive numbers Saturday.

She scored 19 points, had 13 rebounds after a 32-point, 10 rebound game in a win over Prairie Ridge.

Panitch believes Wessel is largely recovered from a dislocated rib injury early this year.

"She has good ball-handling skills for someone of her size and she has good knowledge of the game," said Panitch.

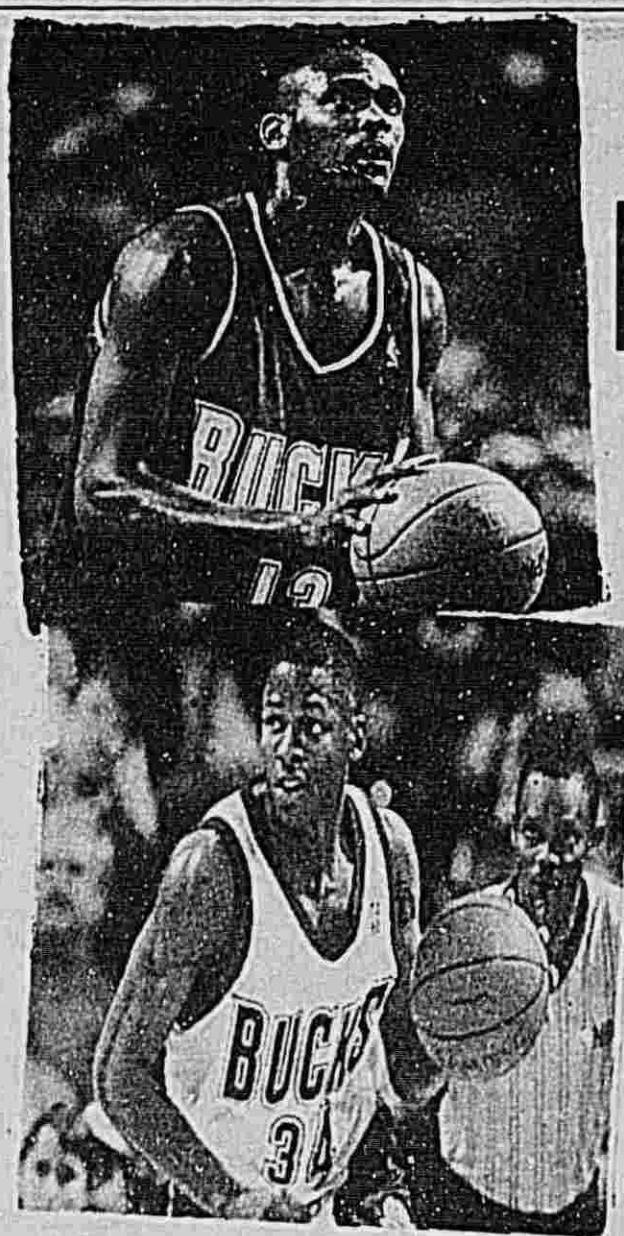

The Rams could not recover from a 24-7 deficit at the end of eight minutes against the Chargers in a 63-42 loss.

The win over the Wolves featured Wessel almost outscoring the visiting team. Kendra Gallagher came off the bench to add 10 points as Wessel played about half the game.

Morgen Paul chipped in with eight points against D-C.

The Rams conclude the regular season at Jacobs Feb. 11.

The Rams, the eighth seed at the Warren sectional, host Wauconda Feb. 16. The Rams were slated to see Wauconda in person this week. Another good news bad news tale: the winner gets Lake Zurich, the top seed.

Second time through FVC rough for Rams boys

When Grayslake and Woodstock's basketball teams clash, there is usually something unusual about the night.

At Grayslake, it was the first night for the new GCHS field house.

At Woodstock, Friday was a night for the Blue Streaks seniors and the school's state championship football team.

The Rams got caught up in the hoopla and fell 43-40 in a large upset of their Fox Valley title hopes.

"It was a very special night for them with the hall of fame and the football team being honored. The place was emotional. They just played better than us," said Rams coach Greg Groth.

Kevin O'Neill and Alex Frank led the Rams (9-3 FVC, 10-10 overall) with eight points each. The Blue Streaks did not have a scorer in double figures. Woodstock did enjoy a 16-8 advantage in free throws.

The Rams led at the outset of the fourth quarter by five points, but a scoring drought proved costly.

The Rams responded to a half-time pep talk and took the third quarter 16-6. Bill Stang gave the Rams their largest lead at seven points.

One bright spot was the play of reserve Tom Papadakis. "He did a nice job inside and out," said Groth.

The Rams were a little miffed over a No. 9 seed at the Waukegan sectional meeting.

"We had won five of our last six games and I thought we deserved a home game," said Groth.

Wessel's talents bloom for Rams

Rich Panitch is convinced about Jenny Wessel's talents.

ATYB registration soon

The next registration for Avon Township Youth Baseball is scheduled for Feb. 14, at the Round Lake Park Dist. on Hart Rd., just south of Route 134 Main St., from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. If you received the registration form in the mail, mail this in as soon as possible. All NEW players must provide a copy of their birth certificate for us to keep. The cut-off for all birthdays is Aug. 1.

The baseball and softball league covers all of Avon Township, including Grayslake, all Round Lake towns, Hainesville and parts of Lake Villa. The ages range from 7 to 16 for boys and ages 7 to 18 for girls. All registered players automatically go on an in-house team, except for the boys Colt and girls Tri-County teams. Only traveling is offered on these teams.

We offer traveling teams in the boys Mustang, Bronco, Pony, and Colt leagues. There will be try-outs for these teams and the managers will select the players. The traveling teams play in Mikes Memorial Traveling League and also play in tournaments. We offer these teams so that players with above average abilities can play against top teams and improve their level of play. Any player from Grayslake, Round Lake towns, Hainesville and parts of Lake Villa can tryout. Call Mike Hughes at 223-9299 for any additional information. Remember, you don't know how good you can be, if you don't try.

We are a volunteer organization, so if you have any free time or a skill we can use, volunteer. We still need managers and coaches for all leagues. Hope to see you at registration. If you need any further information, call 223-9299.

Wilmot Speedway announces '98 schedule

Wilmot Speedway

The Official 1998 Wilmot Speedway racing schedule was released recently and is available on the web, www.racingonline.com/wilmot, or via snail mail by balling the track office or the race lines. The Wisconsin Home of Sprint Car Racing 1998 season will kick off on Saturday, May 2 and conclude on Saturday, Oct. 10. In between are 39 action packed race days of fun and excitement as the speedway enters its 46th year of great family fun and the finest racing anywhere.

In a move designed to increase the fan friendly atmosphere and increase family attendance and participation in the race program, the speedway will feature two race classes every Saturday night throughout the year. "We want our fans to see all the races and to enjoy the accompanying weekly entertainment. Our race programs in 1997 definitely lasted too long and this forced many people to leave early because their children were tired or they simply became bored with the length of the show," said Andrew Calin, promoter. "We want to insure people get their monies worth when they come to Wilmot," Calin continued, "With the introduction of nightly entertainment and other surprises, we're committed to having the entire night's program completed before 11 p.m."

After leading the nation in 1997 with a 45 car weekly average car count, sprint cars continue to be the featured event with the Budweiser Star Trac Sprints taking the track 24 Saturday nights in 1998. Included in the schedule are three challenge races with the Interstate Racing Assn., the first on Saturday, June 20 when Chevrolet presents Jammin-n-June.

The speedway is proud to be a part of the Wisconsin Sesquicentennial Celebration with the King of Wisconsin Sprint Challenge on Saturday, Aug. 1. This year the King will expand to an all day event featuring music, softball and basketball tournaments, slot car racing and much more all part of the 150 year celebration of Wisconsin. The final sprint car event will be held on Saturday, Oct. 10 with the "Last Blast" spring challenge.

In addition to Sprint cars, the IMCA Modifieds will be featured every Saturday night. The IMCA Mods will race every Saturday night with the exception of Sept. 12 when the IMCA national are held in Iowa. "I have a strong belief that the future of racing is in a lower budget class of car and the IMCA modifieds fit that belief very well," said Calin. "I am very proud of our sprint car count, but there needs to be a class for newcomers to get into without needing to spend thousands of dollars and the IMCA Mods is it."

Sundays will see a mixture of Mini-Sprints, Mini-Mods and the new Coors Lite Cruisers. Wisconsin Mini-Sprint Assn. has nine race dates in 1998 and the ever-unpredictable Mini-Mods will see action eight times. The Coors Lite Cruisers will debut on Sunday, May 24.

Cruisers are a simple, fun class requiring two drivers. One with the steering wheel and the brake and the other with the gas pedal. A little coordination is required to go straight and fast. What better way for friends and neighbors to have a lot of fun while challenging their ability to work with a partner.

July 19 and Aug. 16, a change from previously published dates, will see the American Motorcycle Assn. race for the first time ever at the Wilmot Speedway. The races will feature everything from amateurs through Semi-Pro with Quads also on the program. This should prove to be an exciting afternoon of racing as the Flat Trackers take to the 1/2 mile clay oval at 1 p.m.

Star Trac memberships, season tickets and season pit passes are now available. Call the track office for details and buy your memberships early to avoid the rush.

The season ticket program is new in 1998 and the holder will have access to all car-racing events throughout the year for one price. This is a great gift idea. Give us a call with questions, or answers at 395-0500. Don't forget the RaceLines are available 24 hours a day at (414) 862-2446 or (847) 838-RACE or visit us on the web at: www.racingonline.com/wilmot. The fun begins May 2; we'll see you there.

As an added service to our customers, we can notify you by mail, (if you want us to) of any work your vehicle needs according to the manufacturers recommended maintenance schedule.

Love in cyberspace

Stuck for an original idea for cupid's day, surf the web for Valentine's Day fun

By JASON J. KING
Staff Reporter

Are you tired of sending flowers and cards, buying boxes of candy and shelling out big bucks for romantic dinners? Do you feel that Valentine's Day is becoming stale, boring and stagnant?

Maybe you hate the concept of Valentine's Day and are looking for ways to vent your frustrations.

You don't have to go far, all the information you're looking for is but a mouse click away on the Internet.

Everything from the history of the day to how to successfully not celebrate the day is online for your perusal.

It's easy to take a modern look at love... in cyberspace.

A history to lose your head over

So you want to know who's responsible for this day we call Valentine's Day.

Check out the Origins of Valentine's Day web page (www.flower.net.com/v4/val.tml).

The page tells the story of Valentine, a Roman Catholic bishop who, at risk of his life, married lovers after the emperor Claudius II outlawed matrimony.

After attempting to convert Valentine to the Roman Gods, Claudius II had him clubbed, stoned and then beheaded.

His life was given for love.

Why do fools fall in love?

So just what is it that makes us fall in love?

For the answer to that question pull up The Science of Love website (whyfiles.news.wisc.edu/033love).

This site delves into the science of falling in love. From humans to animals and everything else in between.

Why such an intense look at the science of love? Why not? It's the Internet after all and this page is obviously put together by a bunch of people with too much time on their hands.

A dream date?

So you're the type who fawns over celebrities. You read the tabloids and take in the gossip shows. You can't get enough.

You're also alone on Valentine's Day.

Why not build your perfect man or woman?

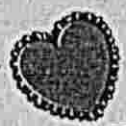

Head to the Build-A-Date page

(www.valentine.com/vdate.htm).

At this site you can answer a series of questions about what you like and don't like in perspective dates. Punch the enter key and seconds later you're matched with the celebrity who most matched your answers.

Have you always dreamed about a date with a celebrity? Go on, take the plunge.

We need to talk

They say that breaking up is hard to do. That adage is doubly true on or around Valentine's Day.

Need a way to let someone down gently?

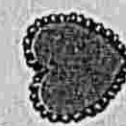

This is not the way to do it.

At the Cyrano Server (www.nando.net/toys/cyrano.html), you can have the computer pen your Dear John or Dear Jill letters.

After entering a few quick facts and feelings about your soon to be ex, the Cyrano Server will produce a swift but somewhat tacky breakup letter.

It's extremely entertaining.

Never fear, however, the server will also pen a love letter or a special valentine to be sent via e-mail to that special someone.

It's all Greek to me

Want to impress that special someone at your romantic, candlelit dinner?

How about saying "I Love You" in a foreign language? You can do so with a quick consultation of the "I love you in various languages page" (www.dina.kvl.dk/~fischer/alt.romance/language.html).

The sparse but interesting page offers those three special words in languages from Afrikaans to Zuni and even has the Vulcan translation.

Wani ra yanaro aisha! (I love you in Vulcan)

A number game

So you've looked up the scientific reasons for why we fall in love. Now you're wondering if you and your significant other are a good match.

Consult the Love Calculator (www.xs4all.nl/~kink/love/).

By entering your full name, and your love's full name, the site will compute the probability of the two of you making a love connection.

Do you wonder whether or not breaking up with your ex was the right thing to do? Enter their name and yours and the Love Calculator does the rest. Are you wavering on your current love interest? Enter your names and find out how you stack up.

A very entertaining site. Its accuracy is largely up to what you believe.

Find it at the shack

This site has a little bit of everything. At the Loveshack (ww2.mediasynergy.com/holidays/loveshack.htm) you can see how you stack up at the Passion-analyzer. Answer the ten questions honestly, and the analyzer rates your passion level.

Are you a movie buff? Especially for the tearjerking, kissy-faced romance flicks that keep the facial tissue industry in business. Cast your vote for the most romantic movie of all time at the site.

Are you looking for that killer pick up line. The site has a list of them for your use.

You can also send your love an animated love card. There are a handful of premade cards and the option to make your own. Great if you've forgotten to buy a Valentine's Day card.

Down with Valentine's!

So you've had it with relationships and you're determined to undermine the sanctity of the most romantic day of the year.

You're not alone.

In fact, there are a number of sites that will cater to your needs.

Call up The Anti-Valentine's Day Page (www.netreach.net/~trishy/vday/html) and join the countless others who refer to this Valentine's Day as "Black Saturday."

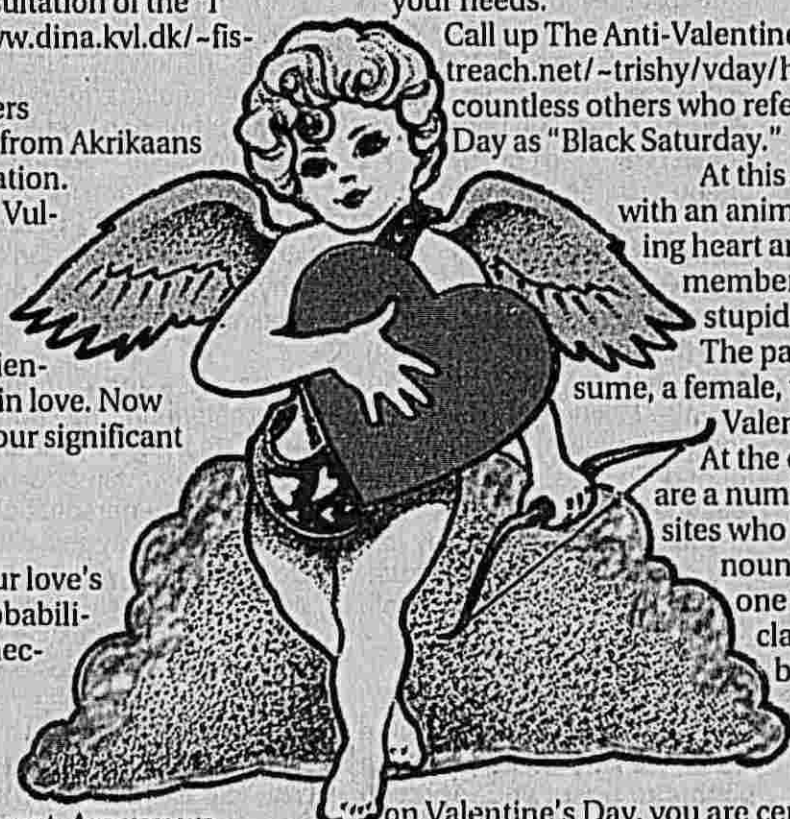

At this site, you are greeted with an animated image of a breaking heart and the slogan, "Remember, Cupid rhymes with stupid."

The page is a rant from, I presume, a female, who states her views on Valentine's Day bluntly.

At the end of the page, there are a number of links to other sites who have joined in denouncing the day, including one who's webmaster claims the entire page will be colored black on the fourteenth.

Whatever your take on Valentine's Day, you are certain to find what you're looking for online. Happy Valentine's Day!

'Explore!' offers college experience to junior high students

The College of Lake County's "Explore!" program offers junior high school students an opportunity to experience the college environment in a series of Saturday mini-classes. Classes will be offered Feb. 21, March 21, April 18 and May 9 on CLC's Grayslake Campus between 9:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. with a supervised lunch period from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

The following classes will be offered at the first session on Feb. 21: "Babysitting Certification I and II" from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Cost is $30. This is the first session of a two-day course approved by the American Red Cross. The concluding session will be held Feb. 28. Students must be at least 11 years old to take the course and must complete both sessions to earn the certification.

"Dance Workshop: Ballet, Jazz and Hip-Hop" from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Cost is $35. Instructor Pam Manta will combine techniques of ballet, jazz and hip-hop with exercises to strengthen balance, coordination and body positioning.

The following classes will be offered from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.: "Test Taking Strategies," "Hair-Raising Physical Science Demonstrations," "Chess Competition Strategy I" and "Enhancing Self-Esteem." Cost is $12 per class.

Classes offered from 12:15 to 2:15 p.m. are "Fencing I" ($12), "Making Friends and Keeping Them" ($12) and "Ceramics" ($22).

"Surf the Net: Introduction to the Internet" will be offered from 1 to 4 p.m. Cost is $18. Students must have a CLC Internet waiver form signed by their parent or guardian before attending the class.

Two classes will be offered from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.: "Fencing II" and "Communication Skills: Say What You Mean, Mean What You Say." Cost is $12 per class.

For program information or to receive an "Explore!" brochure, call 543-2022. Dial 543-2598 to register by phone and pay by credit card. Telephone registration hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Imagination plus

Imagine a place where cars are made from tin cans. Where a tiny finger can change the course of a river, and a ship can sail around the world in a day. Imagine a place big enough to host a child's imagination. It's the new Chicago Children's Museum, with 57,000 square feet dedicated to the curiosity and creativity of children ages one to 12. Children can become artists, scientists, and leaders at the Chicago Children's Museum. Within the museum's doors, children are everything.

Children can make themselves a chair, build a table, or anything they can imagine in Under Construction. Kids can become quiz show contestants in the Face to Face Exhibit.

How about answering 911 emergencies? Kids can drive an ambulance and fix broken bones in City Hospital. Other imaginative exhibits include Inventing Lab, Artabounds, Grandparents, The Stinking Truth About Garbage, Waterways, and Treehouse Trails.

The Chicago Children's Museum is open Tuesday through Sunday. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Free Family Nights are every Thursday from 5 to 8 p.m. Admission is $5. The Children's Museum is located at Navy Pier, 700 E. Grand Avenue, Chicago, IL. For more information, call (312) 527-1000.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

A minor problem at work escalates into a serious situation. Work with your superiors to calm everyone down. Your efforts will be recognized. Loved ones rely on you a lot this week. They need your help to organize a family gathering. Capricorn and Scorpio play important roles on Thursday.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't be stubborn when it comes to a romantic relationship this week, Taurus. You're not the only person involved; think about what your special someone wants and needs. A heart-to-heart talk will solve a lot of problems. A friend needs your help. Be supportive, and do what you can.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

There are so many things going on this week, Gemini, that you don't know which way to turn. Clear your thoughts, and organize your priorities. It's the only way to get everything done. The weekend will offer you a lot of time to relax. Do something special for yourself. A loved one has a surprise for you. You're going to love it.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Keep your temper in check early in the week, Cancer, even though many people will be asking for your assistance. Do what you can to help them, because they need your expertise. A family friend offers you a lucrative business opportunity. Look at the facts before making a decision. There's a lot of potential here.

Leo - July 23/August 23

This is your week to roar, Leo. You finish an important project ahead of schedule and make great strides in a personal relationship. That special someone finally responds to your advances. Now is the time to show him or her how much you care. Plan a romantic evening for the two of you.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Your opinion is the deciding factor when it comes to a business proposition, Virgo. Don't agree to do anything that you're not comfortable with. You need to think about your own welfare. The person you've been dating doesn't call. Don't get upset. He or she just has a lot going on.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

A business associate asks your advice about a personal problem that he or she is having. Try to help, but don't get too involved. Mixing business and personal matters can lead to a lot of difficulties. A close friend lets you in on a secret. Keep it to yourself. He or she only told you because you are so trustworthy. Virgo plays a key role early in the week.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

You're seeing red early in the week, Scorpio. Everything seems to upset you, and you don't know what to do. Take some time for yourself. Clear your mind, and try to relax. It's the only way you'll get anything done this week. That special someone calls it off. Don't brood over what could have been. He or she wasn't right for you.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

You don't know what you've got until it's gone — unfortunately, this adage applies to you this week, Sagittarius. Someone whom you take for granted doesn't want to see you anymore. Only now do you realize how much he or she means to you. Turn to loved ones for support. They are there for you.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

You have a difficult decision to make on Monday. The "wrong" choice could anger a lot of friends, but don't let this influence you. You have to do what is best for yourself. A close family relationship becomes strained, and you don't know why. Talk to this loved one, and work out the problem.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

A problem in the workplace takes up most of your time this week, Aquarius. You have to cancel some personal plans in order to remedy the situation. Don't worry — your loved ones and friends will understand. You meet an interesting person during the weekend. Be yourself.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

You feel like you're swimming upstream early in the week. Everything that you try to do backfires. Don't get discouraged. Your efforts will pay off in the long run. That special someone wants to take you out for a night on the town. Say yes.

THEATRE

Karla Kostinen is the "Madwoman of Chaillot."

'Madwoman of Chaillot'

The Drake Theatre presents Jean Girardoux's "The Madwoman of Chaillot" as adapted by Maurice Valency, at Barat College.

"The Madwoman of Chaillot" is directed by JoAnne Zielinski, producer of Shakespeare on the Green, and Theatre Professor at Barat College. As a special guest artist, Karla Kostinen, the artistic director for Shakespeare on the Green and Head of the Acting/Directing program at Barat College, is featured as the "Madwoman."

Called a fantasy by many, "Madwoman" is a comic tale by the French playwright, Jean Girardoux. When the Madwoman hears of a group of promoters who plot to dig up Paris in search of oil, she devises a plan to rid Chaillot of the villains, and bring joy and happiness to the world again. With a cast of more than 20, a spectacular set, and the ambiance of Paris, this production promises to be one of the best shows to ever grace the Drake stage.

"Madwoman" opens on Feb. 20 at 8 p.m. and continues for two more performances on Feb. 21 at 8 p.m. and a matinee on Feb. 22 at 3 p.m. Admission is $9 for patrons and $7 for students and seniors. For more information, call 604-6344.

Celebrate the MG sports car craze at museum

Three cheers for the MG sports car craze! View the best of the best; a 1930 MG M-Type Midget, a 1947 MG TC, and a 1952 MG TD, on display now through Feb. 28, at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum near Wauconda.

As part of the Museum's ongoing exhibit, "Model A to Z28: America's Love Affair with The Road," MG models on display are currently on loan from Jack and Helen Heist of Mundelein.

In the early 1920s, William Morris of Morris Garages (MG) began working to create "a fascinating small car with exceptionally good performance." Created was the "MG" which became synonymous with the term "sports car." In 1930, the MG M-type was the first MG model in production. By 1945, the MG TC model was introduced and is credited with starting the sports car craze in the United States. The MG TC was brought to the United States after the post war and only 10,000 were produced between 1945 and 1949. In 1949, MG built the MG TD, the first car to be equipped with bumpers. It also offered a more comfortable ride than any other previous MG model.

CHECK IT OUT!

Using images from the Curt Teich Postcard Archives and other collections, the Model A to Z28 exhibit examines the impact of the motorized vehicle on American culture. Highlights include a mini drive-in; a multimedia tour of Route 66; a state-of-the-art video game, World Rally; and much more. A collection of Illinois license plates dating from 1911 to 1996, vintage gas pumps, and other road-related memorabilia round out the exhibit.

In celebration of the 100th anniversary of car manufacturing in America, Model A to Z28 features a different vintage and new automobile each month.

Admission to the Lake County Museum is $2.50 for adults, $1 for students ages 4 to 17. Children under 4 are free. Admission to the Museum is free on Tuesdays. Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and 1 to 4:30 p.m., on Sundays.

The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Route 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. For more information on the Model A to Z28 exhibit, call the Lake County Museum at 526-7878.

Readers' Theatre adaptation of "I Never Saw Another Butterfly" by Celeste Raspanti on Sunday, Feb. 22 at 8 p.m. on the PM&L stage, 877 Main St., Antioch.

The theme of this work is children in the Holocaust. Over 15,000 Jewish children passed through Terezin, and only about 100 were still alive when Terezin was liberated at the end of the war. These few then went back to the scattered pieces of their lives, their homes and families. Raja lived through it all, teaching the children when there was nothing to teach with, helping to give them hope. This play is her story. It is history as much as any play can be history, showing the best and worst of which the human heart is capable.

Mickey Mandel from Antioch is directing this presentation. Admission is free, and there will be discussion and refreshments afterwards. Call 838-3280 for more information.

drama ranks as one of the greatest in American theater. Production dates are Feb. 13 and 14 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 15 at 2:30 p.m.

The talented cast has a great deal of theatrical experience. Colleen Jordan from McHenry stars as Blanche du Bois, and Peter Pintozzi from Island Lake plays Stanley (the role that Marlon Brando made famous in the movie). Leslie Meyer from Trevor is Stella, and Phil Jaeger from Zion plays Mitch.

Other cast members are: Chris Jones from Lindenhurst, Eunice; Bruce Weise from Antioch, Steve; Janice Ferri from Lindenhurst, the nurse; and Scott Badtke from Genoa City, Wis., the young collector.

Reservations can be made by calling 395-3055 or by coming to the box office. Box office hours are Mon.-Thurs. 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., Sat. 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., and 1-1/2 hours before curtain time on production dates. Ticket prices are $10 for adults and $8 for students and seniors.

'Elmer Gantry'

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre presents the Chicago premiere of a major new musical, Elmer Gantry. The show runs through March 22. The show stars Broadway's Tom Zemon (Les Miserables) and Kerry O'Malley (Cyrano the Musical).

Elmer Gantry is based on Sinclair Lewis' Pulitzer Prize-winning novel and Academy Award-winning film. In the dusty back water towns of the Midwest in the 1930s, Sister Sharon Falconer's two-bit traveling salvation show struggles to save souls and meet expenses. Enter the fast talking, good looking Elmer Gantry, salesman and con man. He turns Sister Sharon's world upside down and starts saving souls with show-biz savvy and greedy know-how. But what he really wants, money can't buy. His smoldering desire for the beautiful Sister Sharon ignites into a blazing inferno threatening to consume them both. The only thing left to save is his own soul.

Performances are Wednesdays at 2 and 8 p.m.; Thursdays at 8 p.m.; Saturdays at 5 and 8:30 p.m.; and Sundays at 2:30 and 7 p.m. Tickets are $33, with $5 off to senior citizens and students for certain performances. Reservations can be made by calling the box office at 634-0200.

Buck Island The Pride of St. Croix

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel

Did you know, there's a U.S. National Park much of which is underwater?

It's called Buck Island and can be found off the coast of St. Croix, in the U.S. Virgin Islands. Buck Island, a breeding ground for the endangered sea turtle, and the spectacular underwater reef surrounding it, is owned and managed by the U.S. National Park Service.

During my recent visit to St. Croix, I took a sailing charter out to Buck Island. At the suggestion of the desk clerk at my hotel, I booked a full day charter with Big Beard's Adventure Tours.

The next morning, waiting at the hotel pier, was Big Beard's sailing catamaran, the Renegade, with Simson at the helm, Don was first mate and the newest (and most attractive) crew member, Maryonna.

Maryonna came to St. Croix about two months ago, with the intention of finding a job and making this sun-drenched tropical island her home. Just goes to show we can make our dreams come true if we try.

After a short stop at Christlansted to pick up a group of Danish journalists, we were under sail to Buck Island.

We first anchored off a small beach on Buck Island, to allow those new to snorkeling to get some shallow water lessons. There, we were visited by a couple of friendly sting-rays who dropped by to feed on scraps of fish Maryonna was marinating for our beach BBQ later in the day.

Before long, Don gave us the signal (using a conch shell as a horn). It was time to set sail to the highlight of our trip, the Buck Island reef.

Anchoring in about 15ft of water to a permanent mooring as not to damage the reef, we donned our masks and fins and set out in columns of twos.

Following a path marked by underwater "road signs" which also pointed out interesting coral formations, I came across a school of purple angel fish, who actually let me swim among them.

After a beach BBQ (made a bit more lively by a young lady named Lura, who had a little too much rum punch), it was time to head back to the hotel, and sadly to pack for the trip home.

MOVIE PICK

Little comedy, lots of music in 'Blues'

Left to right, John Goodman, J. Evan Bonifant, Dan Aykroyd, and Joe Morton star in "Blues Brothers 2000," a movie that doesn't quite live up to the original.

A warning to you Baby Boomers who would try and regain your youth by viewing "Blues Brothers 2000," because you think it's the sequel to your favorite flick when you were a teenager, 'Tain't so!

You'll find little resemblance to the very funny, demolition derby movie of all time, a cult flick that was probably only funny in a 1980s "Saturday Night Live" kind of way, just as one of it's missing stars, John Belushi, was funny in a "Saturday Night Live," drugged-out kind of way.

Back again are the dark suits and dark shades, Dan Aykroyd as Elwood, Mother Mary Stigmata, Director John Landis, Matt (Guitar) Murphy, and his wife played by Aretha Franklin. Missing are all the laughs, Chicago, the really spectacular police car crashes, the deceased Cab Calloway and of course, Belushi.

The addition of three new "Blues Brothers," a pleasant bartender played by John Goodman, Calloway's son played by blues singer Joe Morton and an orphan named Buster, played by a bland kid with the unlikely real name of J. Evan Bonifant, does little to salvage the comedic, or should we say dramatic part of the film.

Toss in some Russian mobsters for chase value, add a lot of real-life blues artists, and you have what could be better if presented as a Blues Concert Extrordinaire.

Music by James Brown, Eric Clapton, Paul Shaffer, Isaac Hayes, Lou Rawls, Steve Winwood and Travis Tritt will be recognized and enjoyed by all, and Blue buffs will especially love the appearances by Blues Traveler, Erykah Badu, Junior Wells, Sam Moore, Johnny Lang, Eddie Floyd, Wilson Pickett, Taj Mahal, The Louisiana Gator Boys, Clarence Clemons, Bo Diddley, Dr. John, Billy Preston, Sharon Riley, the Faith Choral, B. B. King, Koko Taylor and Jimmie Vaughn.

Anything in between the showcasing of the above is strictly a waste of time.

On the basis of a sequel and the new story version of "The Blues Brothers," we give "Blues Brothers 2000" one out of a possible five stars. But, we'll cover that and raise you two rating points and give "2000" an overall three out of a possible five stars because we heard "the breeze in the trees singing weird melodies" and you know what they call that!—By Gloria Davis

Planning a garden for the birds

Throughout time, people have delighted in watching birds who frequent their backyards. Their beauty is a source of wonder and consolation. To observe a bird in flight, fills me with inner peace.

Providing food, water, and nesting sites for birds in your yard will significantly increase opportunities for observing them. Once birds have discovered your yard, they will keep coming back. Sparrows and House Finches, may build their whole life cycle around a particular feeder station. Many migratory birds, such as White-crowned Sparrows and Purple Finches, will return to spend winter in the same backyard year after year.

My feeding stations are set up right outside my kitchen, on the patio where I can view my feathered buddies, at various times of the day, while sitting at the dining room table. I have a very beautiful, and very large pine tree at the base of my deck, in which I have hung my bird feeder, and suet balls.

I also have a feeder hanging right in front of my patio doors, off of the rain gutter on the back porch. I love observing birds, it gives me many hours of joy. They are fascinating, they really are fun to watch.

If you would like to attract birds

GARDEN JOURNAL

to your home, besides erecting feeder stations for them, you can also cultivate plants that will help turn your backyard into a wildlife refuge. They need places near the feeding station in which to perch or hide from predators. If you don't have many trees or shrubs, by all means plant some. There are many plants and flowers that attract different species of birds, as well.

If you would like to attract hummingbirds, plant flowers in orange and red shades, as these are the colors they are attracted to. They like long, tubular flowers such as salvia, and trumpet vines. Hummingbirds also like a moving water source, such as a fountain or waterfall. Birds love fruit shrubs and vines such as the elderberry, honeysuckle, blackberry, raspberry, and the gooseberry.

Besides providing places of dense cover and shelter, these shrubs also provide fruit and insects for the birds to feast upon. Fruit bearing trees and berry-bearing shrubs provide food for mockingbirds, robins, and waxwings. Native deciduous trees like maples, alders, some oaks, and dogwood provide much better general forage for birds than do exotics. Birds tend to avoid non-native species because they fail to attract native insects. One year I planted a large amount of cosmos, a native flower, and I had a large number of gold finches visit me every day, they love the seeds of the cosmos.

Attracting birds to your garden also provides balance in your garden's eco-system. Birds will feast on the insects, that otherwise may be feasting on your plants. Backyard birding will provide you with a rich insight into the life cycle of birds. They generally follow a regular routine.

You will notice that they do the same things—feeding, bathing, preening—at the same time, for the same length of time, each day. Even if you attract a few of the common species, watching them throughout the day, will provide you with much entertainment and you will get quite an education about them. Believe me, the whole household will get involved in birding. Good wholesome family entertainment.

Now I know why older women prefer big needles

You are never too old to learn. Lately, I am learning a lot - about being too old. You can, for instance, be too old to sew. I have learned why many older women give up sewing and take up knitting - they prefer big needles.

And the reason they prefer big needles? Because right about the time a woman reaches 42, she suddenly discovers that her tiny little sewing needles have somehow become mutants. Each needle now has not one, but TWO holes, both of which are completely thread-resistant.

After several weeks of hearing her children yell, "Hurry up - you'll miss it! Mom's trying to thread a needle again!" most women just give it up and say, "Go ahead and laugh. Let's see how brave you are when I'm holding a big knitting needle in my hand."

This also explains why, when I was a child, my mother was constantly asking me to thread a needle for her. I could never understand before why a woman who could manage to give birth to three children could not stick a thread in a hole. I figured she must have done badly on those tests in school where you try to fit the triangle into the triangular slot, the square into the square slot, etc. Heaven forbid the woman ever got a cash station card - she'd be lost ("Hmmm...stick

LIFE'S A BEAR

the card in the hole...forget it! Where's Donna?)

Now that I am older, wiser and a whole lot blurrier, I know the answer - it wasn't that she couldn't do it - she couldn't SEE it.

Yes, it's true - I, Donna Abear, have reached "the eyes are the first to go" age. Boy, do I hate it when those old sayings are right.

At first I blamed it on my computer - I stare at a computer screen all day and many evenings, and I thought it had finally taken its toll. But then I heard a doctor on "Good Morning America" talking about aging, and she happened to mention that most women begin to need reading glasses by the age of 42.

Now I was really depressed - it wasn't the computer. It was my age. Another possible workmen's compensation claim shot down the tube, meaning I was not going to be rich and old. Just old.

I tried to ignore the problem by getting a larger computer monitor. But soon it was no longer just the computer screen that was blurry.

Suddenly, I couldn't read the small print on things like aspirin bottles. I tried staring at them for long periods, figuring that eventually they would come into focus.

Yeah, right. Maybe in my next life.

I suppose I have reached the point where I could really use - EEEEEK - prescription glasses. This is hard for me to admit - I have always prided myself on being a 20/20 sort of girl. These days, I'm still a 20/20 girl - but only if I close one eye. Otherwise, if I look at anything too close to my face, I see double. Which is okay, if you're looking at a picture of Mel Gibson. But not when you're trying to read the instructions on the over-the-counter medicine you just bought. Or the fine print in that sweepstakes letter you've just received.

My husband, for some strange reason, is actually eager for me to get glasses. Maybe that's because he's been wearing them for years, and he wants us to be twins. They do say that married couples start to look like each other after many years.

Well, no offense to my handsome husband, but I'd prefer to look like my dog.

She has an abundance of hair and can see a biscuit from 100 yards. Now if only she could thread a needle...

Questions or comments for humorist Donna Abear can be sent to Lakeland Newspapers, 30 S. Whitney St., Grayslake, IL 60030.

THEATRE REVIEW

Fire, brimstone lost in musical 'Gantry'

A set designer couldn't ask for a better base for the tent revival meetings in the musical version of "Elmer Gantry" than the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre's in-the-round set-up.

One would also expect a lot of holy roller hallelujah singing and shouting in a musical based on Sinclair Lewis' novel about a phony sacred spin doctor of the 1920s, and his torrid love affair with a lady preacher.

Horrendously happy, hand-clapping music is what you get in Marriott's latest offering, with Felicia Fields and company bringing down the house as usual with her rendition of "music to be saved by."

Fields, a familiar face and voice to local musical theater fans, is no stranger to the art of stealing the show with her rousing gospel singing, since she has stopped more than one musical with her powerful and magnetic, vocal talents. These alone are worth the ticket price if gospel singing is your bag. Even if it isn't, Fields, her chorus and the rest of the cast are lyrical and often laughable, turning out some of Marriott's best music in a long time.

Tom Zemon, who plays the title role that won Burt Lancaster an Oscar, and Kerry O'Malley, who plays his supposed temptress, Sister Sharon, do their share of competent vocalizing, more often than not doing justice to the better than average songs written by Bob Satuloff and Mel Marvin, although there isn't a Hit Parade among them.

Then why, Oh why, has this musical been wandering around the theatrical circuit for many years without making a splash? We suspect that it's the same reason that Marriott's version furnishes an evening of exciting music accompanied by a forgettable dramatic segment, with all the original fire and brimstone roar brought down to a whimper.

Zemon and O'Malley are attractive enough, and seem dramatically capable, O'Malley more than Zemon. Although Director Eric Schaeffer may be guilty of accepting the shallow, often bland characters Marriott's cast offers, the show has been rendered by many other actors and directors with the same mediocre result.

Maybe an all music production ala Andrew Lloyd Weber is the answer, or maybe the "Main St.," poor middle America that Lewis wrote about is out of date in today's opulent, materialistic, often religiousless society?

We had a hard time deciding who to blame for this watered down version of a holy con game extraordinaire, not to mention a flaming love story that barely gets past simmer. Lancaster could never have taken the gold statuette with this lackluster material.

A script sadly lacking the explosive characters in the Lewis novel and subsequent screen play could be the culprit. The show gets a good start, but then quickly slides into mundane boredom, saved now and then by the lively music.

The answer could be "rewrite, rewrite, rewrite." But then the theatrical powers that be have had many years to do this. Maybe "Elmer Gantry's" shelf life is over.

"Elmer Gantry" will be playing at the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre through March 22.—By Gloria Davis

Scholarship money available to qualifying students

Skyrocketing costs coupled with cutbacks of government grants and college assistance are putting extra strain on family budgets and assets. As a result many families are relying on burdensome debt to finance their children's education.

The good news is that there are nearly 400,000 scholarship and grant sources now available to help students pay for college costs. Over 80 percent of these scholarships do not depend on family need or high grades but are awarded based on factors such as the student's interests, activities, field of study, age, ethnic background, or parent's work or military service.

For information on how to receive academic funding and scholarships for college, graduate school or trade school, send a No. 10 self addressed, double stamped envelope plus $2 to cover handling to: National Academic Funding Advisory (NAFA), 188 Summer Street Dept. M1, Portsmouth, NH 03801.

Charm and Elegance

Everything is brand new about Paisan's Ristorante Italiano except for the atmosphere filled with old world charm and elegance, and the time-worn popularity of the traditional Italian cuisine with accents of northern Italy, that make up the mouth-watering menu.

Owners Kevin and Dorothy Calcaterra believe that upscale European dining means offering the best Italian country dishes, served by an award winning staff, on white linen and crystal. The coziness of the hunter green, burgundy and ivory decor, warmed with mahogany wood and adorned with classic prints, completes the inviting picture.

The homemade soups and desserts, as well as the fresh seafood and pasta dishes are several of the reason(s) Paisan's has become so popular in less than two years. The diversified menu also includes a long list of scrumptious pasta dishes, as well as the chef's favorite game specialties: roasted lamb and breaded pork chops.

The Calcaterra's hope that diners can find just a tiny bit of room for an award-winning dessert like the richest Tiramisu in town, the unusual bread pudding with Jack Daniel's sauce, yummy blueberry cobbler, or their special blood orange mousse served with rosemary peppered chocolate. Paisan's also offers a full wine list filled with choice Italian and California wines.

Customers receive friendly, fast and knowledgeable treatment from a wait staff that has been chosen Lake County's "Best Service" for restaurants, as well as from any of the rest of the well-trained staff, all of the same high caliber.

Paisan's will cater any affair either in-restaurant or at outside locations. Carryouts are also available.

Paisan's is open seven days a week, for lunch from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, for dinner, from 4 to 9 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and from 4 to 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. Phone 625-1500 for reservations or more information. "Paisan's, where friends will be friends—forever."

VALENTINE GIFTS OF THE HEART

B10/Lakeland Newspapers

February 13, 1998

With roses for the one you love, each day is Valentine's Day

To say Americans love roses would be a blooming understatement. More than 1.2 billion stems of fresh-cut roses were sold in the U.S. during 1996—88 million of them for Valentine's Day alone! In addition, a recent survey found that more than 19 million American households have rosebushes in their gardens.

Roses are certainly beautiful on the bush, but they can enliven any home setting, too. Here are some tips for displaying and preserving fresh-cut roses, whether florist-bought or garden-reared, from the California Cut Flower Commission:

- Fresh-cut roses display best in vases that are about one-half as tall as the flowers. For example, an 18-inch rose looks best in a 9-inch vase. Cut your flowers to fit the vase.

- To give a simple bud vase arrangement a finished look, tuck a few small leaves at the rim and tie a pretty ribbon around the neck of the vase.

- Try floating just one or two garden roses in a crystal bowl for a gorgeous, eye-catching display.

- For a special celebration, create an all-rose bouquet. Combine stems of hybrid tea roses, voluptuous garden roses, and spray roses with the daintier sweetheart or miniature rose. Choose roses of analogous colors (shades close to each other on the color wheel), such as peach, yellow and pale pink, or a combo of cream, champagne and blush pink. Another good teaming is lavender, deep rose and hot pink.

- Should a rose wilt prematurely, it usually means the lowest inch of stem is clogged with bacteria, or an air pocket has formed and the flower isn't drinking water. To remedy this, re-cut the stem underwater. Then submerge the whole rose in warm water until it revives

(about two hours).

The commission also recommends adding floral preservative, obtainable from your florist, to the vase water. Use the recommended amount for the size of your bouquet.

Another way to lengthen bouquet life is to remove all leaves which will be under water in the vase. Submerged leaves will decay and create bacteria.

If you're planning to purchase roses for that loved one on Valentine's Day, here are some things you may want to know: Red roses declare the intensity of love the giver has for the receiver, while red and white roses together symbolize unity in a relationship. White roses stand for purity and innocence, pink roses help signify perfect happiness, and yellow roses reflect friendship (the state motto of Texas, as in the song "The Yellow Rose of Texas"). In fact, Greek mythology has it that roses were created from nectar spilled on earth by Cupid while he was heading to Mount Olympus for a council of the gods.

The California Cut Flower Commission represents more than 400 growers who collectively produce more than 60 percent of all domestically grown, commercially sold fresh cut flowers in the United States. The state's flower crop has a wholesale value exceeding $260 million.

Let her know she's devine this special Valentine's day with gift of fine jewelry

For centuries, many cultures have believed in divine figures that intervene in affairs of the heart. In fact, there still may be people today who liken falling in love to feeling the effect of Cupid's good aim.

Cherubs and angels are helpers in love and healers of the heart. That is why jewelry designers are celebrating these celestial creatures in pins, necklaces, and rings of gold, sterling silver and platinum.

Isaac Mizrahi chose angels as the theme for his first-ever collection of jewelry, call Angel Rings, miniature diamond engagement rings and diamond wedding bands, made by OE Design, that hang like charms from a platinum chain.

The addition of a 14K gold angel to your sweetheart's charm bracelet can be a gift that is truly heaven-sent. A cherub pendant on a sterling silver chain surely will let that special someone know that she's "divine."

Stop by your local jewelry store, and you'll see that many jewelry designers are exploring whimsical themes. You'll find a variety of celestial figures, like stars, suns, moons — and cherubs.

Need a little guidance as to where to shop? You can write to JA for a free brochure, "What You Should Know About Choosing a Professional Jeweler." Write to Jewelers of America, 1185 Avenue of the Americas, 30th Floor, New York, NY 10036.

PC cameras bring valentines together

*"My funny Valentine, sweet comic Valentine
You make me smile with my heart..."*

Long before songwriters Rodgers and Hart penned a tribute to their "Funny Valentine," people have been looking for new ways to send their love to that special someone every Feb. 14.

The first modern Valentine dates back to the fifteenth century when a young French duke was kept prisoner in the Tower of London for many years. To his wife he wrote poem after poem, expressing his heart's deepest feelings. More recently, sweethearts have proclaimed their love by relying on mass-produced Valentines plucked from drugstore shelves.

But we're in the information age now, and thanks to new technology—such as the Intel Create & Share™ Camera Pack—romantics can hold live video calls with their loved ones over the Internet or through regular phone lines. Your "Funny Valentine" can actually see you "smile with your heart."

The camera pack comes with everything a high-tech romantic needs: a tiny camera that sits on top of your PC monitor, video phone capabilities and a variety of software that adds a whole new dimension to the way you communicate. It's a package that lets you create video-recorded Valentine's Day greetings, edit snapshots into creative one-of-a-kind greeting cards and even carry on live video phone calls with friends, family members or loved ones across the miles.

"Video Valentines communicate so many more feelings and emotions than standard greeting cards," said Lois O'Halloran, marketing manager for Intel. O'Halloran has five tips for getting the most out of video greetings at Valentine's Day:

Tip 1: Send a Valentine's Day E-mail Postcard. Make your Valentine greeting come to life with sight and sound. Just snap your picture or record a video using the Intel PC Camera included in the camera pack. Next, record a personal audio greeting. Then send it off to your loved one using e-mail. Imagine his reaction as he opens the message to see and hear you deliver a personal greeting.

Tip 2: Go Live on Valentine's Day. Instead of merely calling a loved one, add your face to the voice with a live video call. The video phone feature can make you feel as though you're right there—all for the price of a traditional phone call.

Tip 3: Create Original Valentines and Calendars. Use the "PhotoEnhancer" software to edit snapshots captured from the Intel PC Camera. Then make and print personalized postcards, greeting cards and calendars with just a few mouse clicks.

Tip 4: Valentine's Day Cards for Classmates. Instead of sending the same two dozen cards to classmates, your child can create her own Valentine that includes her own picture. She can even use the "morphing" feature to add special effects, like stretching her nose or bending her ear to make a fun—and funny—Valentine.

Tip 5: Originality at the Last Minute. It's 5 p.m. on Feb. 13 and you've forgotten to buy a Valentine. Instead of picking through a drugstore's leftover cards, go home, relax and create your own cards, complete with your own photo—or better yet—with your own video greeting.

The Intel Create & Share Camera Pack, offered in three versions, brings video capabilities to the newest Pentium® II processor-based PCs, as well as the family of Pentium processor-based systems starting at 90mhz. It is available now at computer retail stores across the country. For more information and to download the free trial e-mail postcard software, visit the Intel web site at www.intel.com/createshare.

Gemstones capture romantic sentiment

Gemstones are peculiarly personal possessions that bring a special kind of joy to the wearer. They are symbols of happy memories, with connections to the highlights in individual lives, with magical, emotional qualities bestowed upon them.

"Every piece of jewelry has some romantic association on some level," wrote British historian Geoffrey C. Munn, author of The Triumph of Love.

Gems have long been a favorite Valentine's Day gift, given for their beauty and rarity as well as for the sentiments expressed in the giving.

Here is some information about the most popular gems and their powers to please from the Jewelry Information Center:

• Diamonds are the traditional symbol of love and commitment. The name comes from the Greek word adamas, meaning unconquerable—suggesting the eternity of love. Diamonds were discovered about 2,500 years ago in India, and the ancients believed them to be splinters from the stars, perhaps crystallized lightning.

• Pearls are an adornment of the goddess of love, Venus, and in ancient times they were more highly valued than emeralds or gold. In the 17th century, white and black pearls stood for the dark and light sides of passion. More recently, pearls have come to symbolize a happy marriage.

• The ruby is known as "Lord of the Gems" because of its rarity and beauty. The highest quality rubies were said to protect their owners from all kinds of misfortune. According to legend, rubies contain the original spark of life and possess an inner flame which burns eternally.

• To the ancient Egyptians the emerald was known as "the lovers' stone." Wearing an emerald was also believed to cure infertility. Emeralds were said to restore peace to troubled hearts and to increase love. They were also seen as symbols of hope and reminders of a fresh spring.

Midwestern staff gets patient care awards

27 staff members recognized

Nordstrom's, Ritz Carlton, and Mercedes Benz are a few of the names which most consumers equate with outstanding customer service. Add to that list Midwestern Regional Medical Center.

Setting standards more in line with the hospitality industry than the healthcare industry, the 95-bed hospital in Zion—affiliated with Cancer Treatment Centers of America—looks and feels like a fine hotel or country club, and that's just the way Midwestern's patients and family members like it.

To reward and commend staff members at the hospital who provided extraordinary service for patients during 1997, a cash award and framed certificate were presented to 27 employees by the hospital chief of staff Gopal Bhalala, MD, an internal medicine physician from Zion.

"I wish that we could give this award to all of our staff members," Dr. Bhalala said during the award presentation, "but we were able to identify the very best and the brightest of our remarkable staff of caregivers."

Quality service awards were presented to each of the following: Carolyn Anzalone, maintenance and biomedical, Antioch; Edita Balagot, nursing, Gurnee; Amy Baltes, nutrition, Wauconda; Sherri Bock, pharmacy, Wadsworth; Colleen Bowers, physical therapy, Antioch; Christina Brown,

Questions and answers about mammography screening

What is the current position of the National Cancer Institute (NCI) on mammography screening?

The national Cancer Institute recommends that all women aged 50 and over get screening mammograms every one to two years.

The National Cancer Institute recommends women in their 40s who are at average risk for breast cancer get screening mammograms every one to two years.

Women who are at higher risk of breast cancer should seek expert medical advice about whether to begin mammography before age 40 and to determine their mammography schedule in their 40s.

What does cancer risk mean? Cancer risk means the possibility of developing the disease. Individual, medical, environmental, and genetic factors are known to increase a woman's chances of developing breast cancer. However, many of the risk factors for breast cancer are not known.

Every woman has some degree of risk for developing breast cancer during her lifetime; however, the risk of developing breast cancer is not the same for all women. Even a woman at higher risk will not necessarily develop breast cancer.

What is meant by higher risk and average risk for breast cancer?

Women at higher risk for breast cancer are those who have one or more of the following conditions. Women will need to consult a health professional to determine if some of these are present:

- personal history of breast cancer;

- laboratory evidence that the woman is carrying a specific genetic mutation, or change, that increases susceptibility to breast cancer; for example, mutations in BRCA1 and BRCA2;

- having a mother, sister, or daughter with a history of breast cancer or having two or more close relatives, such as cousins, with a history of breast cancer;

- a diagnosis of a breast disease that may predispose a woman to breast cancer, or having had two or more breast biopsies for benign breast disease;

- Having so much dense breast tissue (above 75 percent) that a clear reading of a previous mammogram was difficult;

- Having a first birth at age 30 or older.

The risk of getting breast cancer increases as a woman gets older. Women without the risk factors listed above are considered at average risk of developing breast cancer.

What was the reason for the recent change in NCI's recommendation?

The National Cancer Advisory Board (NCAB), a Presidential appointed committee that advises and consults with the Director of NCI and the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, considered the updated findings from breast cancer screening studies presented in January 1997 at a National Institutes of Health Consensus Development Conference. These new data showed that regular screening mammography of women in their 40s reduces deaths from breast cancer by about 17 percent. The Board considered these data, and examined both the benefits and limitations of mammography and women's needs for information. The Board recommended to the Director of NCI in March 1997 that women between the ages of 40 and 49 get screening mammograms every one to two years if they are at average risk for breast cancer. Women at higher risk should seek expert medical advice about beginning mammography before age 40. NCI adopted the Board's recommendations.

If a woman in her 40s de-

clides to have a mammogram, who pays?

Payment depends on a woman's insurance coverage and where she lives. Medicare covers one screening mammogram every two years for its beneficiaries who are in their 40s and every year for women in their 40s with a personal or family history of breast cancer. Forty states already require third-party payers to cover all or part of the cost of screening mammography for women in their 40s. An additional four states have legislation pending.

American Lung Association looking for volunteers for school-age programs

The American Lung Association of Illinois in Lake County is looking for volunteers to assist in various activities and programs addressing many issues affecting lung health for the children of Lake County. Two of its school age community education programs where volunteers are needed include:

Asthma Outreach: Asthma is the leading serious illness of children in the U.S., affecting more than 4.8 million individuals under the age of 18. In Lake County alone there are about 11,000 children afflicted with asthma.

The ALA is looking for respiratory therapist or other health-related individuals to teach asthma management skills to children in Lake County schools. These volunteers will work closely with individual schools and community districts. Activities include presentations to parents of children who have asthma, in-service training for school personnel and evaluation of asthma education intervention.

Smoking Prevention: Smoking is an addiction to nicotine, responsible for one in five U.S. deaths. The average age of a beginner smoker is 13, and some 3,000 teenagers start smoking each day.

Volunteers are needed to conduct classroom and small group workshops for elementary and middle school students in Lake County. Emphasis will be on the dissemination of factual information, introduction and practice of refusal skills and insight into the intent and impact of tobacco advertising.

Volunteers work from the "Smoke Free—That's Me!" smoking prevention program. The trained volunteers need to be available during normal school hours.

To become a volunteer, call the Lake County ALA at 295-LUNG (5864).

He who hesitates... is lost

Dear Dr. Singer, My son has trouble learning and I've noticed that part of the reason, at least, seems to be related to his need to change subjects frequently. He also seems to hesitate a lot and becomes interrupted. It doesn't seem to matter if he's in a situation that is distracting or not. It happens anyway. This doesn't bode well at school. A lot of the people I've spoken with at school seem to want to group this into the whole attention thing that seems to be so popular today.

I don't see it that way because he is perfectly able to do other non-school related things in a smooth flowing way. When it comes to school subjects, however, there is this interruption quality to his work. I know I've read another column in the past about learning that you wrote, but I wonder if you could speak on this issue a little. Thank you. S.L.

Dear S.L.,

I have coined a term that I call, "thought interruption." It involves cognitive processing and hesitation in responding to material. I've noticed since I've been doing my cognitive processing program that all the kids I'm dealing with have exactly what you are describing. This is the difficulty with smooth, immediate, thought flow or maintaining the same subject or thought for an extended period of time. It is also a problem with immediate hesitation that blocks the correct synthesis of whatever the child is

PARENT'S PLACE

Sherri Singer,

My thought is that if attention is good in other areas besides school, it's a clue that there may be a processing problem occurring. Processing is about interpreting, organizing, manipulating and remembering sensory information (visual, auditory and tactile.) I've had a lot of kids come to my program after having been diagnosed with ADD and having allegedly not had medication work for them.

Once we start working with helping the processing skills and the "thought interruption or hesitation" problem, they seem to be able to respond more quickly and handle longer and longer time periods of the work. Additionally, if there is an auditory or visual processing problem, of course their thoughts would be interrupted because anything else would feel better to do than focus on something you can't interpret, maintain or do well.

Most school work takes extended periods of being able to stay with one subject. Much of what kids are exposed to today seems to be the exact opposite. It seems that they are surrounded with stimuli that is done quickly. Even the T.V. shows they watch tend to jump a lot. There is a lot of fast movement from thing to thing. It makes it more exciting, but you have to wonder if the mindset of jumping around rather than staying with one thing is not being trained in more areas of life than one.

I view working with "thought interruption and hesitation" as one of the most important parts of my program. It helps kids to become more automatic in their responses. It also helps kids to stay on target regardless of what distractions there are around them. It helps them to know they need to finish one thing before moving onto the next. It helps them to learn about perfecting skills. It creates a success ethic and expectation inside of themselves.

If your son is not exhibiting these symptoms all throughout his life and environment, than you may want to explore this program and option more thoroughly. If it is happening throughout his life and across situations, other types of treatment may be more appropriate.

I'd be glad to talk with you more about this.

Considering Orthodontics? Here are some things to think about

More than 4 million people in the United States and Canada are in the care of an orthodontist and looking forward to a beautiful, healthy smile that's good for life. The obvious potential reward is straighter teeth that are less prone to decay and injury. But just as important is the boost to self-confidence that a better smile can provide.

As you prepare to make decisions about orthodontics, it's very important to be armed with the facts. According to Dr. Gary D. Sexson II of Long Grove, Illinois, here a checklist of what to keep in mind:

Why is orthodontics important? Orthodontics can boost a person's self image as the teeth, jaws and lips become properly aligned, but an attractive smile is just one of the benefits. Alleviating or preventing physical health problems is just as important.

When should by child first see an orthodontist? The AAO recommends that every child should see an orthodontist no later than age 7. In some cases, this could be as young as 2 or 3.

Many orthodontic problems are easier to correct if detected early rather than waiting until jaw growth has slowed. Early treatment may mean a patient will avoid surgery or other more serious corrections later in life.

Is it ever too late for a person to get braces? No. Because healthy teeth can be moved at any age, an orthodontist can improve the smile of practically anyone—in fact, orthodontists regularly treat patients in their 30s, 40s, 50s and older!

What makes an orthodontist different from a dentist? Orthodontists are the dental specialists who correct dental and facial irregularities, day in and day out. An orthodontist is uniquely qualified to correct "bad bites." The American Dental Association requires orthodontics to have at least two years of post-doctoral, advanced specialty training in orthodontics in an accredited program, after graduation from college and then dental school.

What about costs? This will vary, of course, depending on the nature of the problem. Many orthodontic problems require only limited treatment. You may be surprised to discover that orthodontics is less expensive than you thought.

Your orthodontist will be happy to discuss fees. He or she may offer payment plans to help meet individual financial needs. In addition, many dental insurance plans now include orthodontic benefits. Of course, it's important to keep in mind the lifetime value that orthodontics provides.]

Who can recommend an orthodontist? As your family dentist to recommend an orthodontist. You can find the names of AAO members in your area simply by calling a toll-free number, 1-800-STRAIGHT (1-800-787-2444). Or write the American Association of Orthodontics at 401 N. Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63141-7816. Or, for a free orthodontic consultation in your area, you can call Dr. Gary D. Sexson II, at (847) 913-9100.

Breathe easier in severe weather

When the wind-chill factor drops to an unbearable low, the people most bothered are those with breathing problems and the elderly. However, there are some things these people can do to make themselves more comfortable despite winter's wind, ice and snow.

Dr. Christopher Winslow, director of the Crane Asthma Center at the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago, suggests staying inside if possible. If this is not possible, the use of air-warming masks is recommended. A warm scarf over the nose and mouth can also help.

Dr. Winslow says that people with breathing problems should try to avoid shoveling and even walking in snow. If a person does shovel snow, he or she should actually cool off outside before going back inside.

Other long-range tips for dealing with winter health hazards:

- Learning and practicing proper breathing techniques, both indoors and outdoors.

- Annual flu shots for persons with chronic respiratory conditions and for all those over 65 years of age.

- Maintaining an indoor humidity of 40% through proper use of home humidifiers.

- Drinking from six to nine glasses of water daily.

- Keeping up regular exercise to maximize oxygen intake.

- In lieu of outdoor exercise, try indoor walking at a shopping mall, biking on a stationary bicycle or participating in low-level exercise classes.

The Woods of Antioch offers executive style homes where other builder's options are standard

The Woods of Antioch, currently under construction by KLM Builders, is quickly becoming a favorite destination of new home buyers to the Antioch area.

"We feel we offer the best value out there," said Barry McMahon, of KLM Builders. "By the time you compare what we offer to what others offer, we are far ahead of the rest."

Standards in the Antioch Executive Homes are options for other builders, according to McMahon.

Standard features include: Merillat kitchen cabinets with roll-out drawers and adjustable shelves, oak trim throughout, fireplaces with gas starters and glass doors, double-hung insulated thermopane wood windows with a maintenance-free clad exterior, Dupont® stainmaster carpet, fully improved lots and energy efficient appliances, just to name a few.

All models come with full basements and 9-foot ceilings on the first floor. Many feature three-car garages.

The Woods of Antioch is KLM Builders first foray into Lake County. The company has been building homes in the Spring Grove area for nearly a decade.

"We felt a need to service the Antioch area," McMahon said. "People desire the area, there are a lot of unique stores and recreational opportunities in Antioch which make it an attractive community for families. We have found a demand for upper-scale type of homes in the Antioch area."

McMahon says the company always builds with the customer in mind and will tailor floor plans to meet a family's need in the building stage.

"Our standards are other builder's options," McMahon said. "We work with our buyers to give them the highest quality home in a timely fashion that meets their needs."

Delivery time is approximately five months and the development is beginning stage three.

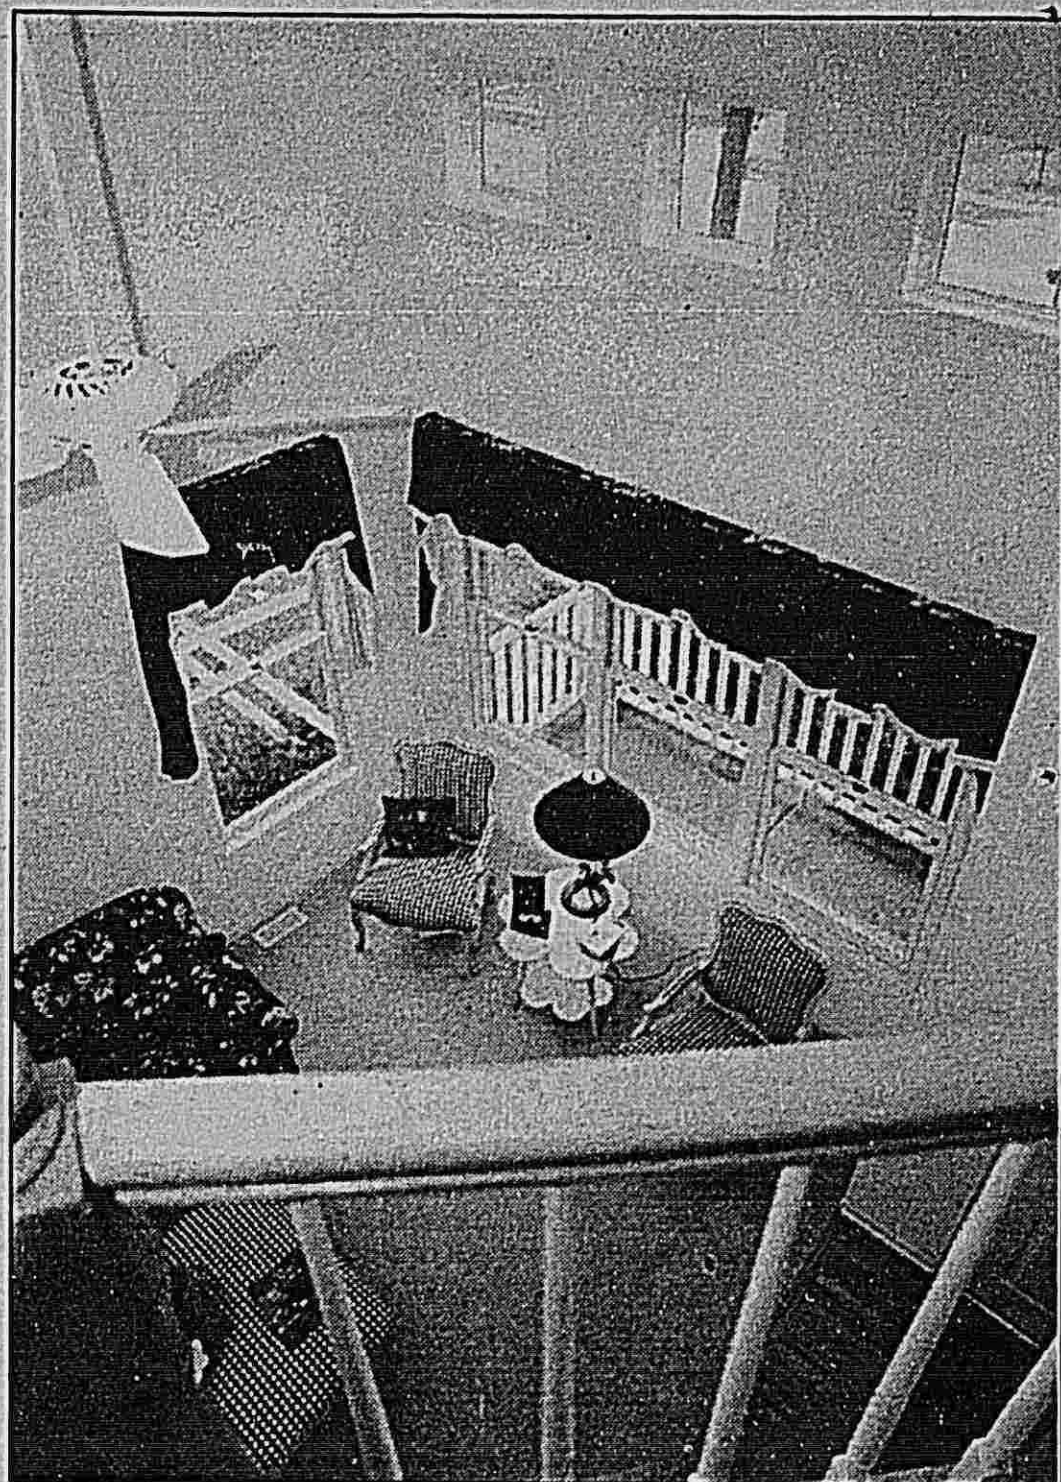

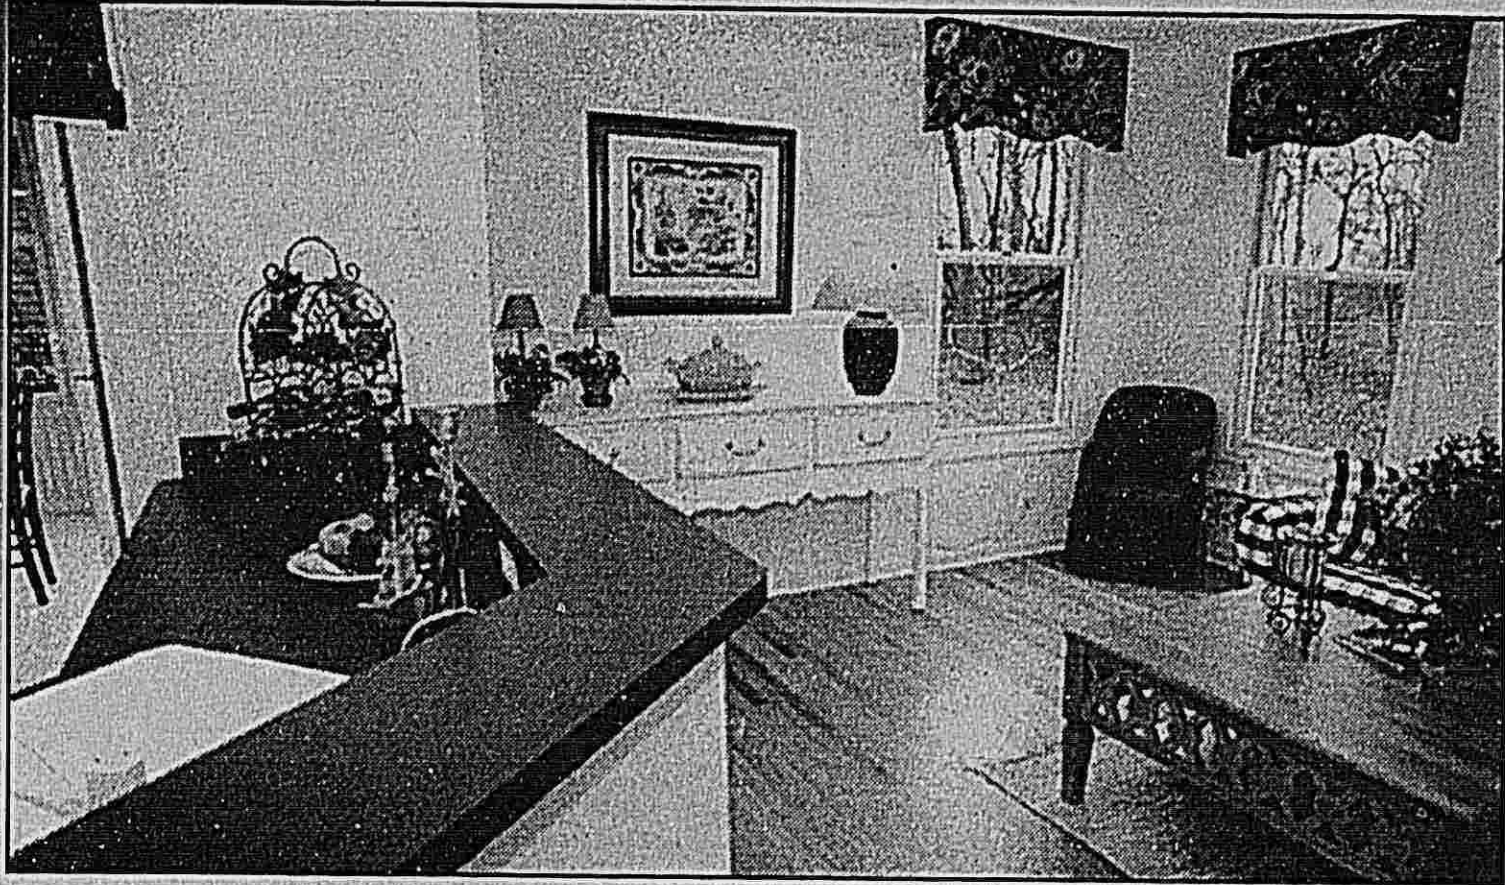

"Stage three is an example of one way we

Tassles and pasties; county board gets the nude out

Owners of existing strip joints file suit to block ordinance

By SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

Lake County Board Members created an adult use license this week, placing regulations on the adult entertainment industry and banning all nudity, alcohol and gambling on their premises.

Anyone who enters an adult entertainment club featuring live entertainment will have to be age 21 or older. Barriers will have to be created around permanent stages, keeping performers a distance of at least 8 feet away from customers. No direct touching or lap dancing is allowed, and all tips must be placed in separate containers instead of garters.

"Our goal is to protect residents concerns from these operations," said Lake County Board Member Diana O'Kelly (R-Mundelein), who has been involved in the recent fight against nude dance clubs since one opened up in unincorporated Diamond Lake in November. Scores was shuttered Dec. 31, and remains closed.

"It is our job as stewards of county government," said Lake County Board Member Pamela O. Newton (R-Vernon Hills), chairwoman of the Planning, Building and Zoning Committee, "to protect and maintain the characters of our communities and the quality of life that we expect in Lake County.

Dancers will be required to wear at least G-strings and pasties, and be required, as all employees of such businesses are, to be registered with the county.

Hours of operation of adult entertainment businesses are now regulated between noon and midnight Monday through Saturday. Language appearing on signs will be closely monitored, with anything about nude or "XXX" or silhouettes of women not allowed. Flashing or beacon lights are banned as well.

Individuals who apply for the licenses will have to pay a $200 fee and provide the county with a $5,000 bond.

Restrictions also affect adult bookstores, which can no longer have doors on booths, and must have all public places open to the public. Adult video stores that have separate viewing areas will also have to be licensed by the county.

The restrictions imposed by the county take effect immediately for any new businesses, but will not take effect until Nov. 11 for any existing ones.

Newton said the license agreement protects the First Amendment rights of people who own or frequent adult entertainment establishments, while at the same time protecting citizens who find the businesses as disturbing their quality of life.

A constitutional attorney representing the owners of adult dance clubs in unincorporated Wadsworth and Lake Zurich filed suit in U.S. District court just hours after the Lake County Board approved the license Feb. 10, in order to prevent the ordinance from taking effect.

The attorney, J.D. Obenberger, reportedly said the ordinance takes away his clients First Amendment rights. Lake County attorneys believe the ordinance will stand up in court, as it allows the businesses to

No tomorrow for Sbarboro

Voters oust Soil and Water chairman

By LEON FILAS
Staff Reporter

The people of the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District have spoken, loudly.

Pamela Kerpec of Libertyville, Randy Reid of Round Lake and Nancy Garland of Third Lake received over 70 percent of the votes in the soil and water district elections this past Tuesday night, ousting incumbent Joe Sbarboro from his position as chairman of the soil and water district.

Clearly upset with the way things have been run under Sbarboro, people came out and voted overwhelmingly against him, as the three winners of the election received over 220 votes each, while Sbarboro finished last in the election, receiving only 60 votes.

This will officially end the chairman's controversial reign over the soil and water district, as new directors will be installed and a new chairman appointed at next month's soil and water district meeting.

The other surprise of the evening is that Garland won her seat on the board of directors after successfully running as a write-in candidate.

Others on the ballot who were not elected are Joseph Maraviglia and Robert Smyth, both of whom are known supporters of Sbarboro. Both candidates received 61 votes of 310 ballots accepted.

"The staff was extremely pleased with the election results," stated Joanne True, administrative assistant to the soil and water district.

The election day started with the opening of the polls at 8 a.m. Sbarboro, who cast his vote at 9 a.m., announced he was protesting the entire election because there was no one there to check whether certain voters were located within the district.

Prior to that, the soil and water conservation district hired an attorney, Bernard Wysocki, to help guide them through the elections. He determined it was a conflict of interest to have Joe Sbarboro at the election the entire day, questioning people on where they live in the district.

However, Sbarboro lashed out in other ways, as the outspoken ex-chairman screamed at audience members and the district attorney during a monthly board meeting held after the elections and prior to the votes being tallied.

When all the votes were tallied, all the newly elected candidates looked forward to the board pulling together and moving on.

"I'm thrilled and I'm looking forward to making a difference in the community," Garland stated. "I have a great group of people to work with, and look forward to the time ahead with them."

"I feel great," Kerpec stated. "I can't wait to get started. This district is a great district, and the people here are going to make a great team."

"I'm happy for the district," Reid stated. "I think that now, some goals can be set and reached in the soil and water district."

Sbarboro had no comment about the elections, but a formal protest about the elections is expected to be filed through the department of agriculture.

The Department of Agriculture, previously, has decided to stay out of the soil and water district's business.

"The Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District will be locally administrated and the courts should decide the outcome of the events," Patrick Hogan of the Dept. of Ag. stated. "We are not, nor are planning on stepping into this and this should be handled in the local election."

Vows to make youth priority in next term

By LEON FILAS

When you're talking to him, you almost have to remind yourself that you're talking to a politician.

With his quiet demeanor, his boyish smile and his humanistic quality, it's hard to believe he's running for any office, let alone for re-election to office of Attorney General of Illinois.

Yet, he is. Jim Ryan is running for re-election to the office of Attorney General.

"Politics is a debate of idea's, not a bloodsport," Ryan stated to the 300 plus people who attended the Grant Township Lincoln Day Dinner on Saturday, Feb. 7. "It's expected that people should have differences of opinion on voting, yet in the end, we should pull together to make sure that a Republican is in office come November."

Jim Ryan was elected as Attorney General during the 1994 election after spending 10 years as states attorney of Dupage County. Since taking office, he has been a leader in child support reform, phone fraud, and a major proponent against child molesters and violent sex act criminals.

He also has spearheaded an internet child exploitation unit that monitors the web for pedophiles and child porno-graphers in the state and has made moves to bring those peo-

Lake County Board presents 1998 legislative program

Lake County Board members at a luncheon implored legislators to address concerns ranging from funding for juvenile detention personnel to funding for road improvements.

Approved by the County Board, the legislative program recommends six areas for direct sponsorship.

State funding for juvenile detention personnel

Lake County's Juvenile Detention Center is two thirds at capacity, with only 32 beds out of 48 operational. County Board Chairman Robert L. Grever said, "This is one of our most pressing concerns. The county needs an additional $545,000 to pay for the 19 positions in fiscal year 1999 to make the facility fully operational. Our recommendation is to support an appropriation in the Supreme Court budget specifically set aside for Lake County's need for 100 percent funding of the 19 new secure juvenile detention personnel." Additional transportation funding

The county's congested highway backlog is growing. In 1992, 15 miles of county-owned roads were over capacity. By 1996, the number of congested county roads was 25, a 67 percent increase in four years. The current motor fuel tax sends 19¢ per gallon to Springfield from Lake County for road improvements in the state, and the county receives one-tenth of one cent of these revenues in return. The County Board supports legislation that either will place Lake County into the Cook County motor fuel tax allocation formula, the current state formula that favors Cook County, or include Lake County with the state when additional sources of transportation funding are reviewed.

Maximum use of federal transportation funding

Projects eligible for federal transportation funding have been expanded in recent years. The county needs the statutory authority to be able to supply the necessary local share to ward these projects, such as the proposed Lake-Cook Road arterial management system. The County Board recommends that the county portion of the Illinois Highway Code be amended to increase the share of federal transportation dollars eligible for use in Lake County.

School impact fees

While municipalities can agree upon any mutually acceptable impact fees for almost any purpose through the annexation process, county impact fees may only cover the fair market value of authorized land donations or fees in lieu of donations. "This is a great concern to all of Lake County. The impact of growth to schools affects us all," Grever said. "Residential developments burden school districts beyond the price of land to expand existing facilities or build new schools. Faced with new students from new developments, a school district may incur capital facilities costs even without the imme-diated need for land acquisition," he added. The County Board recommends legislation to authorize counties with a population of more than 500,000 to impose impact fees covering capital facilities costs and the fair market value of school land, specifically and uniquely attributable to new residential development.

County zoning of non-conforming uses

Counties do not have the same zoning authority as municipalities and therefore, cannot eliminate certain uses, such as adult entertainment facilities. Municipalities have the zoning authority to provide for the "gradual elimination of uses, buildings and structures which are incompatible with the character of districts in which they are made or located." The County Board recommends that counties be granted the same authority as municipalities.

Regulation of tobacco

sales to minors

The sale of tobacco or smokeless tobacco products to minors is prohibited under Illinois law, and many municipalities have created ordinances regulating the sale of such products to minors. The County Board recommends that the County Code be amended to give counties direct statutory authority to regulate the sale of tobacco or smokeless tobacco products to minors.

Lake County will next focus on holding public hearings to establish zoning districts for adult entertainment businesses. The two existing facilities will be allowed to remain in their current zoning, Newton said, but will have to meet the license requirements.

Board members referred the issue to the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals, which will schedule a public hearing and pass its findings onto the county Planning and Zoning Committee, led by Newton, and then onto the county board.

He has also chaired the Governor's Commission on Gangs, helped create a witness protection program to help people fighting against gangs, and toughened penalties for drug kingpins and gang recruitment.

Ryan: Once re-elected as Illinois Attorney General

"Prevention is the most important thing," Ryan stated to the crowd. "If you prevent crimes, crimes never take place."

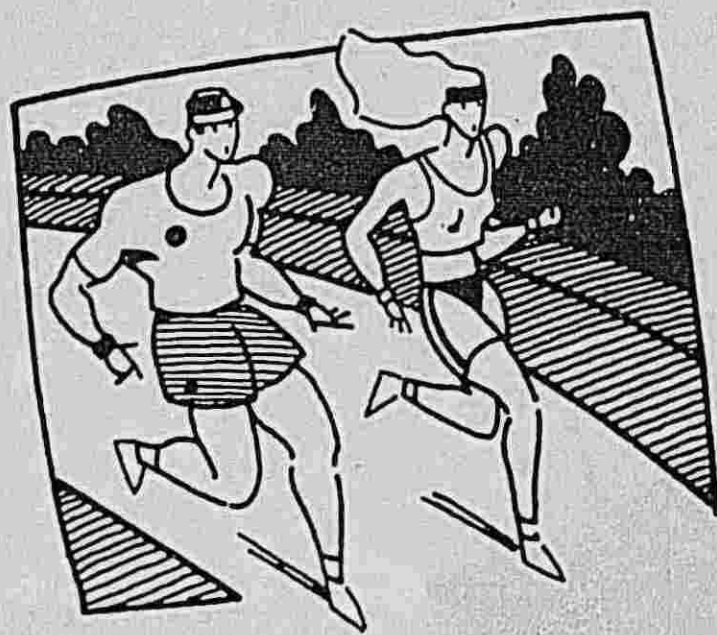

This election, Ryan is focusing on the youth of Illinois. He has vowed to make the health, safety and welfare of children his first and foremost priority.

"We are investing in children. We are spending millions to give kids a better life," Ryan stated. "We are targeting at risk youth of the state to try and give kids a chance to not ever become a problem in this state."

"We want to see the child support program transferred to the attorney general's office," Ryan stated. "We need to help get these dead beat dads up and help support the children of the state."

Then after everything was said and done, the political wheels were turned off for a second, and Ryan returned to his normal demeanor. The quiet man who seems to have been thrust into the spotlight, rather than attacked it as most politicians would. "Boxing. I have a love for boxing," He stated, smiling. "David Diaz, Chicago boxer, great fighter. Perhaps a future champion."

He smiled, that boyish smile. The smile that makes one forget that he is, in fact, a politician.

AT A GLANCE

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Court refuses to hear petition

Mundelein—The Illinois Supreme Court refused to hear Mundelein's petition to appeal a decision made by the Illinois Appellate Court in favor of Vernon Hills regarding an annexation.

Mundelein officials wanted the state supreme court to appeal the lower court's decision, which gave Vernon Hills the right to annex 7 acres of property located midway between Milwaukee Avenue and Butterfield Road along the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern rail road tracks, and allow Mundelein to own and operate the property within the annexation parcel where the village has its sewage treatment facility.

"This is very disturbing," said Charles Marino, Mundelein's village attorney. "We felt the decision was final at the appellate level," said Vernon Hills Village Manager Larry Laschen.

Historical Society card party

Wauconda—The Wauconda Township Historical Society is holding its 15th Annual Card Party the afternoon of Saturday, Feb. 15, from 1 to 4 p.m. at Wauconda Township Hall, 505 E. Bonner Rd.

Some people play hearts, others play canasta. "Any of the popular games, but bridge is the favorite," said Ginger Dickson, chairwoman of the party.

A $5 entrance fee provides three hours of card playing. Four players sit at a table, and everyone receives a prize at the end of the day. The party helps raise money to maintain the Andrew Cook House and Museum, 711 N. Main St., which serves as the historical society's headquarters.

Politicking on the public's dime?

Libertyville—"No public funds shall be used to urge any elector to vote for or against any candidate or proposition, or be appropriated for political or campaign purposes to any candidate or political organization."

That's the law as laid out in the Illinois state statutes and one local group is claiming the Cook Memorial Library District Board of Trustees has violated that law.

The Cook Library Preservation Committee, a political action committee, lodged a formal complaint of election interference with the Illinois State Board of Elections on Tuesday, Feb. 10, against the library board.

John Cleary, of Libertyville, heads up the group and said recent mailings and signs concerning the library referendum have been paid for with public tax funds.

Library board president Joe Bean said the board is merely informing the public.

"We investigated this very closely," said Bean. "We can use library funds to inform patrons. We cannot ask them to vote yes."

Village to review building ordinance

Fox Lake—A controversial ordinance was tabled for discussion by the village of Fox Lake in Monday night's work meeting, as the board of trustees decided that the ordinance must be reviewed further.

The controversial ordinance is a building ordinance that is designed to give the building department of Fox Lake a bigger hand to play when it comes to inspections of run-down buildings.

"The goal of the ordinance is to clean up derelict properties in the village," Mayor Jim Pappas stated. "It would pertain to commercial and single family homes in the area."

The ordinance would allow the building department to inspect homes that have been neglected and have the power to enforce a clean up of the property.

Man beats woman into coma

Round Lake Beach—A Round Lake Beach man faces domestic battery charges after beating a local woman severely on Saturday, Feb. 7.

Thomas D. Day, 27, was arrested after officer responded to an emergency call for a possible violent domestic dispute in the 1800 block of Cedar Lake Rd.

Day was charged with domestic battery. When apprised of the woman's condition, Day refused to comment and became belligerent.

The woman remains in a coma at Condell.

Premiere Parks acquires Six Flags

Gurnee—What will the acquisition of Six Flags Great America and other theme parks mean for the parks' closest neighbors?

Premier Parks announced the agreement of the acquisition.

"We have been fortunate that, over the years, when the park has been sold it has been sold to ownership which has maintained local control and did not change much in park operation or who we dealt with," James Hayner, Gurnee administrator, said. "Six Flags Great America is considered one of Time Warner's two top parks."

Premier Parks will be the fifth owner of the theme park since it opened in 1976. The deal is expected to be finalized in the next quarter.

The work of the citizens blue ribbon committee on the expansion plans will continue, according to Gurnee spokesperson Brad Burke. The group considered its recommendations Tuesday night.

Premier Parks, with offices in New York City and Oklahoma City, OK is considered the fourth largest theme park company in the world in its eight years of operation. It is a publicly owned company which trades on the New York Stock Exchange.

Premier Parks properties are in the United States and in Europe.

The $400 million, 136 acre expansion is under study by a Gurnee citizens committee. It was designed to help the park stay competitive for the long term with a water park, hotels, employee housing and a future events center.

Smoke damages Wadsworth home

Wadsworth—A small fire caused extensive smoke damage to a Wadsworth home Feb. 8, at approximately 6:30 p.m.

The home at 38540 was uninhabitable following the fire which was contained to the bathroom. The damage estimate was approximately $20,000.

The fire was the result of combustibles placed too close to a candle. The fire actually extinguished itself when the heat burst a water line in the bathroom.

Shedd Aquarium accepting applications for high school marine biology program

Shedd Aquarium is now accepting applications from local high school students for its 1998 High School Marine Biology (HSMB) program—an experience filled with hands-on experiments, activities and discussions both at Shedd Aquarium and aboard the Aquarium's research vessel, RV Coral Reef II, in the Bahamas. Program applications are due by April 10.

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. The students will be marine biologists for a week," said Michelle Wildes, instructor of the HSMB program. "They will snorkel in the Atlantic Oceans and gather plankton (tiny floating animals and plants) to study the foundation of the marine food chain. Hopefully, this rewarding experience will keep them interested in marine science throughout life."

To apply, students must have completed one year of high school science by June 1998, write an essay explaining why they want to participate in the program, submit a swimming skills verification, two teacher recommendations and a high school transcript.

This year's HSMB program costs $1,200 excluding airfare to and from Miami. Full and partial scholarships are available through a generous donation from the Polk Bros. Foundation. To receive an HSMB application, students should contact Michelle Wildes of Shedd Aquarium at (312) 692-3173.

Winter's blessing one of our local joys

Despite the absence of sub-zero temperatures and bone-rattling blizzards, Lake County is experiencing a winter worth remembering. Who can forget the script-like, made-to-order Christmas Eve snowfall or the mid-November dump of fluffly stuff that ushered in our fabled "fourth season" earlier than usual? A soggy post holiday snowfall resulted in flocked foliage making winter wonderland photos for local camera buffs.

El Nino might have something to do with current weather conditions (so we're told), but it's rare that our northeastern corner Illinois escapes January and February without legitimate winter weather. Count us among those who enjoy bundling up for a hike in the bracing cold.

Members of the Liberty Prairie Conservancy consider winter a special time of year. Their hikes through the Liberty Prairie Reserve, stretching from mid-county to the DesPlaines River, produce sightings of cottontail rabbits, whitetail deer and sometimes a beaver or two. You won't see a raccoon during the day, but tell-tale tracks are evidence that they are around.

There's plenty to see on a winter walk. Enjoy the fourth season while it lasts. By early March, another Lakeland winter will be history. Look at winter as a blessing.

VIEWPOINT

All the king's men

NEAL TUCKER
Executive Editor

And so it happened in the land of milk and honey there was a young prince who, from the time he had been a very small boy, had his sights set on being king. It was not an impossible dream for he was intelligent, spoke well and enjoyed immense popularity among his peers, especially the fair maidens in the land.

He suffered from one small dilemma. He sometimes got so wrapped up in the excitement of his prestige that he would fib from time to time. This trait proved to be almost scandalous in the past, but he was so well-liked and received so much support from his lovely bride that the problems would eventually go away, but not enough to make him king.

One day he was walking down a cobblestone path when he met a sayer of sooths who would offer to solve all of his problems. The gnarled old man offered him a leather pouch, filled with a sandy-like substance.

"What I have in this pouch will make you king, and you'll be able to send away untruths with the flick of your hand," the wizened old creature said. "When problems arise, just spread this Teflon®-coated pixie dust in the air above you and suddenly, no one will care, not even your princess. Everything will just slide off."

"Marvelous," the prince thought without asking a single question, for he wanted to be king as badly as his lovely princess wanted to be queen. He grabbed the bag, not noticing the man slipped a piece of parchment inside, and left instantly to embark on his quest for the throne.

Minutes later, as doubt set in, he thought he should test the pixie dust first, for it would be embarrassing if he were to be king only to find the powder did not work. So, on his way home, he had a tryst with a fair maiden by the roadside, making sure plenty of his subjects knew about it.

The uproar was tremendous and his bride was so upset she scratched his face. But with one dash of the pixie dust, the problem dissolved.

Feeling confident, the prince set his sights on being king and to his good fortune, just a few months later, the people of the land overthrew the king and overwhelmingly made the prince their ruler.

His path was not without pitfalls, however. The queen, drunk with the power of her husband, took it upon herself to begin changing the laws of the land. The outrage was tremendous. The king asked her to step back quietly as he spread the pixie dust in the air.

Problem solved. We love our king.

In the ensuing years, a number of tribulations popped up. There was the firing of the former king's leisure staff so the new king could hire friends, as well as the leasing of the state bedroom to wealthy aristocrats who in turn signed on parchment their undying support of the king. The king abused his power to call his army to investigate and harass his enemies along with a scandal involving the queen regarding land purchases. Most of the people who had anything to say about that incident simply turned up dead.

The king slipped past everything without a care, armed with the leather pouch always around his waist and a flick of his wrist. The Teflon®-coated pixie dust worked as advertised. His popularity with the people and the scribes was never higher. Everything he says is true. We love our king.

Until one day.

The king had a dalliance with a beautiful young concubine who just enjoyed the fact the king would pay attention to her. Why not? After all, he was the king for crying out loud and he had done this countless times before to no repercussions. The scribes began scratching their quill pens furiously to meet the next deadline. As the firestorm of protest grew and the father of the young girl called for the king's head on a platter, the king slyly reached into the leather pouch only to find there was no more of the magical pixie dust.

Instead he found a note on parchment he had not noticed before. He began to panic as he pulled the note from the bag and read the scrawled letters. It read:

"If you are reading this note then you've had a lot of indiscretion during your reign. I never promised the dust would last forever and you never asked. Whatever has happened now may not be your worst sin but you have now learned the Teflon® pixie dust will let a lot of things slide off, but if you put yourself in the way of slinging mud long enough, some of it will eventually stick."

That day, the king categorically denied the dalliance ever happened. But the people had already begun to realize the king wasn't wearing clothes.

COMMENTARY

The time is right for promoting school choice

In his commentary against the educational tax credit plan (Lakeland News Jan. 29), Illinois Education Assn. President Bob Haisman did what every good union president is expected to do—protect the interests of his union members. Mind you that the dues-paying members are administrators, teachers, and others that represent and benefit from this governmental monopoly called public education and not necessarily the children and families they often claim to represent.

During the Christmas break, IEA members were asked to contact Governor Edgar to veto HB 999 and a possible veto override. The religious/private school networks, on the other hand, tried to persuade him to sign this bi-partisan bill, but we obviously did not match the organizational, financial, and political firepower of the union and lost. The Governor and union cited cost as an unpersuasive reason, completely ignoring the fact that every religious/private school child saves taxpayers thousands of dollars individually, millions of dollars locally, and billions of dollars statewide. Constitutionality was the other shallow rationalization. Funding like preschool programs, textbooks and transportation, the GI Bill and college loans are all constitutionally allowed. It is only in the K-12 grade levels where the current educational monopoly exists. If we tax these religious/private schools out of existence, taxpayers will be obligated to pick up the total bill.

Let's be honest here. Governmental education and subsequent labor unions are fearful of competition. They realize that education is a labor intensive operation and that unions exist to try to increase the numbers, salaries, and benefits of those members. The teachers' unions are fearful that if any type of school choice initiative is successful, whether it be vouchers or tax credits, the end result will be that religious/private schools will continue to exist and, horrors of horrors, may even expand to save even more than the 2 billion dollars it currently saves taxpayers every year.

Unfortunately, over the last few decades we have seen a tendency by government and government schools to support a philosophy that is based on a socialistic/atheistic ideology. This secular ideology, usually under the guise of "separation of church and state," is continually trying to sanitize itself from religious mores/values that are inherent in the very fabric and history of our country.

Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, in writing the majority opinion in the Zorach case (1952), prophetically summarized this tendency when he concluded that whenever government aggressively inhibits religious instruction, that "would be preferring those who believe in no religion over those who do believe—We find no constitutional requirement which makes it necessary for government to be hostile to religion and to throw its weight against the efforts to widen the effective scope of religious influence."

Recently, Pope John Paul addressed his concerns to the new U.S. Ambassador to the Holy See: "It would truly be a sad thing if the religious and moral convictions upon which the American experiment was founded could now somehow be considered a danger to free society, such that those who would bring these convictions to bear upon your nation's public life would be denied a voice in debating and resolving issues of public policy. The separation of Church and State in the United States was certainly not an effort to ban all religious conviction from the public sphere, a kind of banishment of God from civil society. Indeed, the vast majority of Americans, regardless of their religious persuasion, are convinced that religious conviction and religiously informed moral argument have a vital role in public life."

How can we reunite our religious heritage with our civil structure? I would submit that it has to start with education. Frankly, the present educational structure is obsolete and tends to be guarded by those special interest groups that have a self-serving agenda. I would guess that many parents who send their children to government schools are coming to the realization that the few hours of Sunday school or religious classes during the week, are simply not enough to offset the secular onslaught that is thrown at our children every day in the form of television and Hollywood culture.

The encouraging news is that the technology of today offers potentially unlimited educational structures via the use of direct satellite hookups and online computer programming. The boom in home schooling will continue to flourish and will take full advantage of these "schools-without-walls" technology. However, most families will still find that they are unable to meet the sacrifices and commitments that home schooling demands. Thus it would seem the time is right for promoting school choice/vouchers/tax credits so faith-based education can expand and would provide an invaluable option to the current secular school system. School choice would acknowledge the inalienable and civil right of responsible parents to raise their child as they see fit, whether it be in a secular format or in a religious format.

With school choice, our country could start recapturing its noble and moral heritage by having a diverse mixture of religious and secular schools covering our educational landscape. Education in general, whether secular or religious, would then be released from the current governmental monopoly and be allowed to enter an educational environment that support parental choice, allows religious freedom in education, utilizes technology for its own advancement, and is allowed to participate in a free market system that serves as a continuous self-correcting dynamic.

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Graham just down the road

When former Lake County board member and current Libertyville Township supervisor RT. "Mike" Graham, announced his intentions to make another run at the county board, opponents and township residents reminded Graham about his promise to voters last year when running for supervisor.

At that time, Graham told voters he would be a "full-time supervisor."

Graham has said, if elected, he doesn't believe being on the county board will interfere with his supervisor position.

Whether or not running a campaign will interfere with his supervisor duties is another issue, but at least he won't be far from the township office when he's at his campaign headquarters.

He has moved into the old GB Snack Time building at the corner of Milwaukee Ave. and Winchester Rd. in Libertyville. Just down the road a piece from the township offices, located just off of Winchester Rd.

Gossett fundraiser

District 11 board candidate Don Gossett held a campaign fundraiser last week at popular Libertyville watering hole Mickey Finn's.

The retiring Libertyville Community High School superintendent told Party Lines there were around 100 people in attendance.

We can't help but think that while Gossett's fundraiser went well, the real winner during this primary season is Mickey Finn's. Gossett is the second candidate to hold a fundraiser at the bar. District 15 candidate Bob Ostroga also recently held a fundraiser there.

didates Judy Martini, Diana O'Kelly, Al Westerman, Sandy Cole, Martha Marks, Loretta McCarley and Carol Calabrese will be holding a birthday party for George Washington on Sunday, Feb. 22, from 5:30 - 8:30 p.m. at Brae Loch Golf Course in Grayslake.

Among the more notable items scheduled for the night are auctions for retired Beanie Babies and one week's lodging at Puerto Vallarta or Myrtle Beach. Live music will be provided by the Scotch Lads.

Quiet day

Despite threats that the Lake County Soil and Water District Elections would be disrupted by the three member slate led by current board chairman Joe Sbarboro, the Tuesday election was quiet.

The trio had sent out flyers telling voters to support them to reduce a duplication of government services. Life has been unpredictable at the soil and water agency since they negotiated with the Army Corps of Engineers last winter to conduct additional inspections. The board, led by Sbarboro, rescinded that agreement.

The new board will be seated in March.

Slow primary

Despite the ticking of the clock, the March primary seems to be a quiet race so far. Are Bob Churchill and Al Salvi campaigning in the rest of the state and figuring the residents of their home county already have their minds made up?

The two Lake County Republicans are facing each other in the primary for Secretary of State.

Thank you banner

A sign went up earlier this week at the closed site of Offsides Bar in Mundelein, thanking County Board Member Diana O'Kelly for her support in getting the establishment closed and working with the public and solutions.

"Out here in the unincorporated areas they don't have a mayor, I'm all they have, I think I'm being responsive," she said.

O'Kelly faces a challenge from Mary Bowles Fitzgibbons in the primary. Fitzgibbons' literature says she wants to make Mundelein better for families.

Some valentines aren't so sweet

Grazing in the greeting-card racks this week, I came across a couple of valentines I wouldn't mind receiving from my lovey-dove.

On the cover of one card is a picture of two big, brown bears happily hugging while splashing around knee-deep in a stream. (Do bears have knees?)

Anyway, turning inside, the message is, "Love is always having someone wonderful to goof around with."

Here's another card that caught my eye: "It's Valentine's Day, and I love you ... Wow! Two reasons to have sex."

More likely, however, I'll get something in this vein:

"Ours is a strange and wonderful relationship ... you're strange and I'm wonderful."

Or, "Happy Valentine's Day to the man I like to call Mr. Sex-God ... anything for a laugh."

"How do I love thee ... I don't know, I guess I just have a lot of patience and a good sense of humor."

Remember way back when all valentine cards seemed to be just plain old-fashioned sweet and innocent? Wow, how our manners and mores have changed. The card-makers and card-buyers have made the journey from sappy to snippy, from mushy to mischievous.

For example:

"Every day I ask myself, where's the romance and passion in our lives ... and then I remember, that's what Kevin Costner movies are for."

"Valentine, I thought of you today and suddenly felt a deep, warm throbbing in my loins ... and then I realized I was spilling coffee into my lap."

The subject of sex once was a no-no, but apparently now it's acceptable fun:

"Sex, sex, sex. Is that all you ever think about ... and, if so, will you be my Valentine?"

"Hey, Valentine! I heard that sex burns 350 calories per encounter ... Care to join me in a weight-loss program?"

And many cards are much naughtier. The trick, one greeting-card creator says, is to present situations in a way that keeps them risqué without crossing the line to vulgar.

One of my favorite lines about valentines came from actor Christopher Plummer after co-starring in the movie, "The Sound of Music." Said Plummer, "Working with Julie Andrews is like getting hit over the head with a valentine."

Hallmark and the other card creators say women buy about 90 percent of all greetings cards, and some of them obviously care enough to send the very flippant. To wit:

"Cupid shot an arrow in the air and it landed in my leg ... now my leg loves you."

"What a friend! What a looker! What a lover! What a great personality! ... But enough about me."

Other cool cards I saw while shopping:

"Will I be your Valentine? ... Is the pope Catholic?"

"I love you so much I can't sleep, I can't eat, I can't concentrate ... okay, okay, so I can eat."

"For Dad: You've got what it takes to be the perfect dad ... the perfect child."

"It's Valentine's Day and you know what that means ... chocolates for breakfast all week."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Money = power = control destroying pillars of family

Please accept my rebuttal to the commentary printed in the Jan. 30 issue of the Lake Villa record entitled "Stop public school tax heist" and the House Bill 999. In response to the commentary about the HB 999 that would provide tax credits to families who are selective in their child's education. The following would depict the situation. The consumer, or parent in this case, buys a product or services from the store (public education system). The consumer then complains to the store keeper that he is unsatisfied with the services rendered. After years of complaining without satisfaction the consumer makes the request for justice in the form of a refund or a store credit. If the store keeper is honest, the consumer will get the request, if the store keeper is a fraud, the consumer is accused of stealing and stripped of his dignity.

What makes this ironic is that the consumer is also the store owner and is persuaded by the store keeper to continue paying for the services or risk being a statistic among the homeless via a tax lien.

If the store keepers at this time would pry off the eye patches woven with the threads of Money=Power=Control, I will attempt to explain my parental concerns. There are pros and cons in the public education system where the pros outnumber the cons. However, it is the cons that as a parent I need to protect my children from.

For my family, the air hammers of the public school system place my children in a situation that pounds away the foundation that forms a tripod that their lives stand on. The pillars of Faith, Family, and Freedom is what holds our family unit together. Faith in divine providence for mankind, the creation and preservation of a friendly environment to fulfill the needs and creativity of the family, and freedom to exercise faith and family with individual responsibility and moral absolutes.

The store keepers mention the U.S. Constitution in their argument to keep my money in their hands, yet they fail to read and understand it. What is sad about this situation is instead of the U.S. Constitution being used as a shield to protect "We the People" from tyranny it is being used as a weapon against us. Is the Cold War really over?

We need healthcare reform

I would like to start this with a quote from the late Joseph Cardinal Bernardin, who wrote in his 1995 pastoral letter: "Healthcare is an essential safeguard of human life and dignity, and there is an obligation for society to ensure that every person is able to realize this right."

"We've waited too long for this to happen."

Even though I do not believe HMO's are the answer, since traditionally HMO has meant, "less care." I do support HB626, "the Consumer Bill of Rights," at the state level. Funding needs to be set aside for the enforcement of HB626 or it may turn out to be nothing but blarney. Words without action mean nothing.

Quentin Young, M.D. has launched a campaign at the state level for a universal health care plan. Together with House sponsor Rep. Michael Boland they have drafted a proposed constitutional amendment, "the Bernardin Amendment."

If approved by the General Assembly and ratified by the voters, Article XIII, Section 9 of the Illinois Constitution would read: "Healthcare is an essential safeguard of human life and dignity, and there is an obligation for the State of Illinois to ensure that every citizen is able to realize this fundamental right. On or before May 31, 2002, the General Assembly by law, shall enact a plan for universal health coverage that permits everyone in Illinois to obtain decent healthcare on a regular basis."

Work to improve the healthcare coverage we already have, as well as going after something even better. Go see your legislators and let them know you're not satisfied with our healthcare system. If you feel you have inadequate knowledge on the subject of healthcare, just think about what you don't like about your own healthcare coverage and let your legislators know. Join a healthcare coalition and see how much your knowledge and confidence will grow on the subject of healthcare. We, the people, are the only ones who can improve our healthcare system.

Towers degrading

Along with many of my neighbors, I strongly object to Ameritech Cellular's decision to erect a wireless transmission tower, just within the Village limits of North Barrington, but surrounded by a strictly residential area which includes much unincorporated land. Similar technology, placed in a commercial or industrial setting, would occasion little or no objection. We live, however, in a beautiful semi-rural environment with upscale, detached, single-family homes on lots of two to five acres. My neighbors and I are determined to protect our fine quality of life.

Several neighboring property owners have joined together as NOPE (Neighbors Opposing Pole Encroachment) to file a lawsuit against Ameritech and the Village of North Barrington. In their now pending suit, those civil plaintiffs emphasize the destruction of residential property values that will result from the visual pollution caused by the huge eyesore of a tower.

We ask Ameritech to reverse its decision to build this tower. That decision demonstrably damages Ameritech's image as a responsible, environmentally concerned corporation. Meanwhile, we pledge our continuing public opposition to this threatened degradation of our environment.

Tough break

Gee, those teachers really got it bad, having to work 180 whole days. Wow, that's really tough. I wish I could do that, make $30, $40; or $50,000 and only work 180 days. To me, that would be heaven.

Why loitering

How come Round Lake police seem to have more time to stay at the fire station for hours when there's crime going on? What's going on at the fire station that requires all these police to be there all the time?

Poor you

This is in response to the 180-days-only teachers. My response is to all the 180-days-only workers, I'm sure I speak for all the 8-to-5 workers, not 9-to-3, like you. It takes me 250 days of work to get my two weeks of paid vacation. How dare you complain that you work 180 days and then complain about not getting paid for summers or holidays. It takes me 250 days of work to earn the same amount as you in 180 days. And don't complain about taking work home. I also take work home and don't get paid, just like you.

Crying shame

I am a republican. I am proud that I have voted twice for President Clinton and if had the opportunity for another election, I would vote him again. I don't care about his sex life or lack thereof. My care is that President Clinton has brought about the best economy we have had in this century and possibly for all time. I think it is a shame that the press has crucified the president without any fact what so ever. It is a crying shame that this continues, but I for one, will not read about it anymore in any newspapers or watch it on T.V. or hear about it on the radio. It's sickening.

the county. These figures don't mean anything when you do it against the average of the whole state, because the average in Chicago schools are very low. We need national testing. It is free. I don't know why we don't use it. There is all sorts of programs and advice that we could be getting from the federal government and we are not using it. What's wrong with our school district? Don't we want to compete nationally?

Growth Potential?

The Jewel food store has been located in the Fox Lake area because of growth potential. The first Jewel food store was located in Fox Lake on Route 12, and then they moved to the shopping center. Then they left town completely. It seems that they could not see any growth potential at that time.

Train Speed

There is an article that people are complaining that the trains, at some times, have exceeded the posted 50 mph limit. It seems to be that it is o.k. to drive on route 53, or some of the tollway's or freeways, at 70 mph when the speed is posted at 55 mph, endangering many people's lives. I believe that they should put a stop to that also. They keep picking on the trains. The trains still have lights at the crossing and gates that come down. The trains should be entitled to drive using the way they it is fit for the people who use the train. I hope that these fast drivers slow down too.

Permits

I want to know why I couldn't get a permit to build a garage in my back yard, yet people with real estate signs in front of their properties are getting zoning changes left and right. Then I hear the mayor has his real estate license. What gives?

Where is he?

Where is Tim Osmond? He is never in the office. No wonder we don't get any improvements out here from him. Talk about trying come in on people's coat tails. Just because she has a popular last name. She doesn't know a thing about what is going on out here in the unincorporated areas.

I see the Salem witch hunt has begun on the strip dancers at the strip clubs. It's a shame, let's stop it. Feb. 26 lets go out support these guys in the local clubs.

Congratulations

I want to congratulate Diana O'Kelly, Lake County board member from District 10 on her fine work on the adult license. We have had to put up with adult places on Rte. 41 for years, I am glad someone finally took action. Thanks Diana.

Theatre or hospital?

I am very disturbed about this new multiplex theatre. We have a theatre in Fox Lake, and a big theatre in Gurnee, and an outdoor theatre in Grayslake. We do not need a theatre here. We could use a good hospital, with good facilities instead of us always going to Waukegan or McHenry. We already had a one screen theatre in Round Lake, they tore it down. We need more hospitals, doctors and care for the people here.

Smoke-free

Are there any restaurants in the Chain O' Lakes area that are smoke free? When we lived in Wisconsin, we went to a smoke-free fish fry every Friday night and the place was packed. It's so nice to walk into a restaurant and smell the food instead of stale smoke.

Write about hockey

I'd like to know why your paper does not print the iceless hockey standings. Iceless hockey is so big in our area. Why?

When will it end?

When will the chain saws end? For weeks now, I'm awakened by tree trimming. Does it look nice? No! ComEd hires this company to clear the trees around the wires. They "ask" me if they can "remove" the tree 15 feet directly in front of my door. I do not grant permission, as their idea of "removing" the tree is to cut it down and leave the stump in my front yard.

The trimming company claims they're not paid enough to remove the stump. Guess what, folks? I'm not either! I do know that I pay ComEd a great deal of money for the service they provide me. If they need to "remove" my tree to better continue the service, I pay dearly for—then do it. The whole job. Remove the tree (and, last time I looked, the stump that's attached). Instead, you "punish" me by mutilating half of my tree to clear your wires.

I'd love to see the landscaping around some of ComEd's executives' homes. I'll bet they look nothing like my sad, little pathetic half a tree in my front yard.

No parking

People of Wauconda wake up! The latest notice, no parking on the village streets is not just for snow removal it is for the spring and summer months also. So all year round we will not be able to park the car on the street overnight. Which I feel is the infringement of our rights. They say its for sweepers that come every night, but I can't believe they do every street every night. I think that a compromise can be reached, let's say we are going to do a certain street on Tuesdays, then there is no parking on that street on Tuesday. Something has to happen, this is not fair. What about people who don't have driveways? I think this needs to be reconsidered.

MINDING YOUR OWN BUSINESS

Working smart

Ah, the virtues of hard work. Nearly every 'self made' person will tell you that their success is the result of hard work. Now don't get me wrong, I enjoy watching hard work as much as the next person. However, hard work alone is no guarantee of success. Perhaps the following story will illustrate my point.

Two lumberjacks were assigned the task of cutting down a stand of pines. Frank was a big, burly man who swung an axe with the best. Peter was small and new to the logging crew.

The two men started at opposite ends of the grove and soon Frank downed his first tree. He was a little surprised when Peter's first tree fell shortly after his own. For an hour the two men downed trees at a nearly equal rate.

Frank continued chopping steadily and smiled to himself as he saw Peter stop to rest. However, Peter soon resumed chopping and Frank was surprised when the two trees crashed to the ground at nearly the same time.

Frank redoubled his efforts. Chips flew as his axe bit deep into the soft wood. However, by lunch time Peter had cut down more trees even though he had taken several short breaks.

Frank vowed to catch up. Right after lunch he renewed the assault with vigor. He chopped relentlessly, but still lost ground. By the end of the day Peter had cut seven more trees than Frank. As they rode the wagon back to the logging camp at dusk, Frank asked Peter how he cut down more trees and still took so many rest breaks. Peter looked surprised. "I wasn't just resting," he said. "I was sharpening my axe."

It's Not How Hard You Work

In the past 10 years I've consulted with nearly 2,000 business owners. I'm learning it is not only how hard you chop, but also how sharp your axe is. To say it another way, it isn't how hard you work, but how smart you work.

Working smarter is not a natural function for most entrepreneurs. They are doers by nature. They have strong personalities and they make things happen. When they get behind, their natural tendency is to chop harder. However, it is only when they combine this natural tendency with the skill of working smarter that the productivity level increases significantly.

The PIE Theory

There are three critical elements of working smarter. The first letters form the acronym PIE. The P stands for planning. Thousands of years ago the great King Solomon penned these words, "The plans of the diligent lead surely to profit." (Proverbs 21:5 NIV) The more I work with small businesses the more I believe in the wisdom of this passage. Planning is surely the "axe sharpening" of business.

The I in the PIE theory is for implementation. The very best of plans need to be put into action. There is work involved. Planning keeps the axe sharp and implementing swings the axe.

Nosy or necessary? The medical records controversy

"Medical records privacy is emerging as a major concern for employees and employers alike," says consultant and author William S. Hubbart, president of Hubbart & Associates, a St. Charles human resources consulting firm.

"Many employees feel that employee medical information is necessary for business decisions," explains Hubbart. "The employer obtains medical information for pre-employment physical exams, drug tests, leave requests, workers compensation claims and health insurance claims. Concerned that the employer may be just nosy, employees fear the consequences of unauthorized release of private medical information."

Such fears are in fact warranted, says Hubbart, citing several instances where careless employer handling of employee medical records has resulted in violation of the law or an employee's privacy invasion lawsuit:

- Fear of contracting AIDS prompted an employee participating in medical records audit to release information about an individual's use of a drug commonly used for treatment of HIV;

- A supervisor disclosed details of a woman's mastectomy to co-workers resulting in a privacy invasion lawsuit;

- An employee was fired after a psychiatric exam reporting possible alcohol abuse was submitted to the employer without the patient's authorization, a violation of a state privacy law.

Hubbart is the author of "The New Battle Over Workplace Privacy," a new book published in December 1997 by AMACOM Books.

Hubbart offers the following recommendations for firms that maintain employee medical records:

- Identify a specific business purpose for or maintaining employee medical records.

- Store employee medical records separate from regular personnel files to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

- Check state and federal laws to insure that your use of medical records complies with the law.

- Define a written policy to guide use, storage, and disclosure of Medical Records.

- Designate responsibility for maintaining medical files and protecting their confidentiality.

- Maintain medical records in confidential locked files or drawers.

- Determine whether employees are permitted access to their own medical records.

- Identify whether release of medical information will be on employee consent.

- Avoid use of medical records or information in personnel decisions unless there is a clear or overriding safety or health justification.

First phase nears end, models for sale in Apple Country

The first phase of single-family Premier Collection homes is nearing completion in Apple Country where buyers can now purchase a model home.

Apple Country, a Cambridge Homes community in Wauconda, is located on the former site of an orchard and features 25 acres of open space including two nature areas, a large pond and several smaller ponds throughout the community. A nature area and Lake Napa-Suwe are to the immediate west of the community, and bordering the east side is a 19-acre forest preserve. A number of orchard trees have been preserved around the community and close by is the Wauconda Orchard with more than 20,000 trees.

Five homes/homesites are currently available in the first phase of Apple Country including the model home and two other homes that are available for early occupancies and include a number of upgrade features. Buyers may also choose from two homesites on which any of the eight two-story Premier plans can be built including a design with a first-floor master bedroom suite. Homes on the last two sites will include look-out basements.

"Although only five homes and homesites are available in the first phase of Apple Country, the choices are exceptional for anyone who is looking to move into a luxurious single-family home in a hurry," said Richard J. Brown, chairman and chief executive officer of Cambridge Homes. "And people who may have a home to sell, and don't want to move so soon, can choose to have any of our eight Premier homes built on either of the last two homesites, including one that backs up to a forest preserve."

"Either way, buyers will benefit by living in the beautiful country setting of Wauconda where orchards dominate the landscape," he said.

The eight Premier homes in Apple Country range from 1,900 to 3,386 square feet of living space and include three or four bedrooms and 2-1/2 baths. However, most of the plans are available with extra bedrooms and baths. The homes feature specially designed basements that can become additional living space when finished because of the nine-foot-high foundation walls, and include large kitchens with adjoining eating areas; specious family rooms; gracious master bedroom suites; and two-and-three-car attached garages. Most of the Premier homes include nine-foot, first-floor ceilings. The eight Premier home designs are priced currently from $221,410 to $315,620.

The entrance to Apple Country is off Bonner Road, 1/4 mile west of Fairfield Road. To visit the community sales and model centers, take Route 176 to Fairfield Road. Head north approximately one mile to Bonner Road where an historic cheese facility is on the corner, and turn west on Bonner 1/4 mile to the community entrance on the north side of the road.

For more information, call 487-7060.

The Ellington model at Apple Country in Wauconda showcases the work of Cambridge Homes' experienced and award-winning interior designers who in the past year alone have transformed 42 houses into one-of-a-kind model homes.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search:

I am approaching graduation from an area University with honors, and have just recently completed my resume which I am sending along for your review. I am getting all sorts of feed-back, good and bad from family and friends as to how to set it up, and getting extremely confused by what is and is not acceptable. One item which I hope that you will advise me on is the fact that I am bi-lingual and do not know how to list this on my resume. I currently can speak fluent Spanish, French and German, and could be an asset to many corporations that are international, but please tell me where on my resume should I place this information. My mother says I should list it in my objective. My friend says that my objective is not the place they (the employer) will notice it. What do you think? Any help you could offer when reviewing my resume would also be greatly appreciated. Thank you for your time.
R.L. - Mundelein

Dear R.L.:

Thank you for your letter. I envy the fact that you can speak 3 languages besides English. You must be one of those fortunate individuals that picks up on languages like they were nothing. First let's start out with the fact that if you have two languages, that would make you bi-lingual. Any more...multi-lingual. I would have to agree with your friend that perhaps you should not place such distinct information in your objective. Your objective should be your desire in employment. While you may desire to be employed in an area that can utilize your multi-lingual talents, I would not make your objective the only place to expound on that. It is alright to blurb it in the objective by saying something such as "...to utilize my multi-lingual talents... but I would not be remiss in adding it further to your resume by actually stating something such as "multi-lingual, fluency in English, Spanish, French and German". You have a great resume in the works. I am mailing this back with notations. Good Luck.

Dear Search:

I am currently working two jobs and both locations are very near to one another. Neither employer is aware of the other. I leave one and have 15 minutes to be at the next. I have never experienced a problem until now. My daytime employer which is a large company, has recently announced that they will be changing their hours to extend 1/2 hour longer than before, beginning December 1st. This unfortunately will now make me 15 minutes late for my second job each day. I have heard that my day time employer frowns down upon "moonlighting", or working a second job. Should I risk talking to him about the situation? My biggest concern is that my job with him will be in jeopardy. What do you suggest?
T.S. - Libertyville

Dear T.S.:

I think you should be open with him if you feel there is a chance that you may be able to work something out such as taking a shorter lunch, omitting a break, coming in 1/2 hour earlier each day, or working on Saturday. If this is the employer that is your "primary" employer, (the job you most depend on), you may want to see if you can first work something out with your secondary employer so as not to rock the boat. This is a risk many people take, but it is possible that you are not the only employee in this company that will experience a problem with this change in hours. You may find your employer has already made provisions for employees with the same situation. In this economy it is not uncommon for people to hold more than one job. Which ever employer you decide to approach, first inform them how important your job is to you and that you would truly hate to jeopardize it. Things may fall in to place better than you think.
